

ROOSEVELT APPEALS TO HITLER, POLAND AS WAR CRISIS HOURLY GROWS WORSE

Germany Believed on Eve of Lightning Attack on Poles

NAZI CHIEFS PLAN NEXT WAR MOVES

Hitler and Military Officers in Long Session; Convinced Great Britain and France Won't Fight.

BULLETIN.
PARIS, Friday, Aug. 25. (UP)—Genevieve Tabouis, noted political expert of the newspaper Oeuvre, wrote today that "it has been learned that Berlin will forward an ultimatum to Warsaw within a few hours and that Poland will be asked to choose between invasion and total capitulation on the Danzig question."

She said 38 German submarines have been ordered to proceed immediately to Italian waters.

By LOUIS F. LOCHNER.
BERLIN, Aug. 25.—(Friday)—Adolf Hitler and his most trusted advisers deliberated early today on his asserted right to a free hand in eastern Europe in light of Germany's consultation and non-aggression pact with Soviet Russia and Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain's speech to the British house of commons. In authoritative quarters, Chamberlain's speech was pronounced "purely negative."

Only the ministers most directly involved surrounded Hitler at the conference, which went into the early hours of the morning. They included, among others, Field Marshal Hermann Goering, Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop, Propaganda Minister Joseph Goebbels, and Rudolf Hess, Hitler's deputy party leader.

High military officers also were present.

No Communique Expected.
It was considered most unlikely that an official communique would be issued. Men, however, who were in constant touch with the chancellery, presented the following picture:

1. Albert Forster, now the chief executive of the baby state of Danzig, can do two things—first, declare that Danzig considers itself part of the Reich; second, ask that this latest acquisition to the Reich be properly protected in view of the asserted "encirclement" of Danzig by Polish troops.

2. Germany will not declare war upon Poland. It will merely organize a punitive expedition to Poland to "establish law and order." One of the places that must be guarded from lawlessness, above all others, is Upper Silesia with its rich zinc, iron, copper and coal deposits. To safeguard these deposits the "police action" in Silesia must be so fast that the Poles won't have time to blow up or dynamite the mines.

3. After Chamberlain's speech

Whether on the side of the victors or the vanquished, it's the poor women and children who are the first and the greatest sufferers in any war. Here are shown poor German families, with as much of their possessions as they can carry, at the Polish frontier as they cross into East Prussia, fleeing from the menace of a threatened European war.

AUTO TAG SALES SHOW PROSPERITY

Receipts to Date Indicate Better Business Is View of Department Chief.

By LEE ROGERS.
Prosperity is riding over Georgia in every kind of motor vehicle that will whizz along the highways.

The state already has sold more motor vehicle tags this year than during one year of its history. And 1939 still has a little more than four months to go.

So many tags have been sold in the light car classification that a new supply had to be made. That explains the sudden appearance of a flood of cars bearing the "X" marked license plates.

Highway Patrol Credited.
Through yesterday 464,174 tags had been sold for total of $1,817,624.72 this year, as compared with 458,263 for a total of $1,567,439.23 for the entire 12 months of 1937, the previous high.

"Prosperity can be the only explanation of the increased sale," E. T. Williams, chief clerk of the motor vehicle division, said. "The people just have more money to spend and they are spending a good bit of it buying automobiles so they can travel and see their state and country."

"Of course, the state highway patrol is responsible to a large extent for more car registrations because they have patrolled the roads and have made every operator properly license his auto. But, better times and more money are really the only reasons we can give for such an increase in tag sales."

1,876 Trailers Listed.
Williams revealed there are 1,876 house trailers registered to date, an increase of 150 over the number for all 12 months last year. To date the state this year has registered and licensed: Passenger cars, 361,011; state, city and county cars, 1,070; trucks not for hire, 69,975; trucks for hire, 3,644; trailers not for hire, 8,607; trailers for hire, 1,140; state, city and county trailers, 72; buses, 561; school buses, 1,904; dealers, 2,347; motorcycles, 1,277; state, city and county motorcycles, 119; hearses, 441; ambulances, 245; and limited tags, nine.

This represents increases in all classifications excepting hearses and state, city and county motorcycles. The indications from that would be Georgia public health program is proving effective and that citizens are observing traffic regulations, Williams said.

Grand Jury Votes Protest Against Fulton Tax Raise

County Commissioner Chairman Indicates Need for More Money, Lending Color to Rumors of Impending Increase; Calls Jury's Economy Counsel 'Vague.'

A strong resolution opposing any increase in the county 12.5-mill tax rate or assessments, and urging economy, was adopted unanimously by the grand jury yesterday at a special session devoted to consideration of committee reports in preparation for the presentments which are to be returned next Thursday.

Tax Raise Hinted.
Chairman Ed L. Almand, of the commission, said after the resolution was adopted that "we would like to comply with the jury's resolution to the letter but it looks like we are going to have to have more revenue than we had last year." The amount last year, based on 12.5 mills, was $3,345,555.

An additional one-mill tax levy would yield in the neighborhood of $200,000, it was said.

Based on the same levy, the returns this year would be $65,000 greater than the 1938 total.

The grand jury resolution, asserting that the county now has enough revenue for "legitimate needs," came as the result of recurring reports that the county commissioners will at their first meeting in September raise the tax levy one-half or one full mill above the present rate of 12.5 mills.

"Resolved: that it is the sense of this grand jury that there should be no increase of any kind in the present county tax rates or assessments; that the present county revenues are sufficient for all legitimate needs; and, further, that any additional revenues needed by any department for any purpose be secured by effecting further economies in any and all departments," read the resolution handed newspapermen by Thomas C. Law, jury foreman.

Cites Higher Costs.
Almand pointed to increased services and costs, such as relief, assumed by the county this year when he indicated that a 12.5 mill levy would not be sufficient and that more revenue would be raised by the county government.

In reply to a question by a reporter, Almand gave no indication.

CHAMBERLAIN MADE VIRTUAL DICTATOR, WARNS PARLIAMENT WAR IS IMMINENT

Viscount Halifax Asserts Britain Ready to Fight for Poland and Resist Attempts to Alter Map.

WORLD ENCIRCLED BY CRY FOR PEACE

British, French and Poles Rush Defense Preparations Grimly Calm.

Special to THE CONSTITUTION.
A cry of "Peace—before it is too late"—encircled the world yesterday but apparently fell on deaf ears in Berlin as Adolf Hitler and his most trusted advisers deliberated on his asserted right to a free hand in eastern Europe, a declaration that may at a moment's notice throw Europe into a devastating war.

Great Britain, solemnly told by Prime Minister Chamberlain that it was in "imminent peril of war," hurriedly but with grim calmness prepared to meet the danger.

Also British Foreign Secretary Viscount Halifax asserted in a world-wide radio broadcast last night that Britain is ready to fight for Poland and resist all attempts to "alter the map of Europe by constant appeals of force."

Parliament, answering an appeal by Chamberlain for speedy action, passed an emergency powers bill giving the government virtual dictatorial authority and suspending some civil liberties; King George, having cut short a vacation to hurry to London in the crisis, immediately gave assent to the measure.

France Rushes Defense.
Meanwhile, France rushed defense preparations in fear the worst might come at any moment following semi-official reports from Germany that Hitler may take "decisive action" before the day ends.

In Warsaw it was stated on authority that Poland will "not tolerate" any Danzig-German Anschluss restoring the Free City to the Reich last night after protest to Germany against raids by armed German bands across the Polish frontier. A sharp definition of Poland's "limit of forbearance" was believed to be under consideration as the war-born and war-threatened nation of 35,000,000 people made itself completely ready for any fate.

In Rome President Roosevelt's appeal to King Vittorio Emanuele to use his influence for a peaceful solution to Europe's crisis was received in official circles.

As Hitler conferred with only the Reich ministers directly involved into the early hours of the morning, in authoritative Berlin quarters Chamberlain's speech was pronounced "purely negative."

Chamberlain States Stand.
Chamberlain told commons that Wednesday's diplomatic message to Chancellor Hitler, delivered by the British ambassador and restating Britain's position, was answered by Hitler with a demand for a free hand for Germany in eastern Europe. Hitler added that any country which interfered was to blame for any war that might ensue, the premier stated.

He implored Hitler to settle his dispute with Poland by negotiation, but he firmly repeated that Britain would stand by her pledge to assist Poland in event she resists a threat to her independence. "As we think, so shall we fight,"

Prime Minister Chamberlain is seen leaving the palace in London after consulting with King George VI yesterday on the crisis in Europe. The premier appears grim, as the umbrella he carries, known as a "symbol of peace," may momentarily be replaced by a defensive sword of war.

War Tension Mounts

British Navy Barricades Entrance To Baltic Sea as in Last War

OSLO, Norway, Aug. 24.—(P)—Britain's powerful navy, engaged in broad maneuvers the past three weeks, was reported today to have flung a strong barrier across the Skagerrak, the elbow-shaped channel between Norway and Denmark that commands the entrance to the Baltic sea.

At the start of the World War, almost exactly 25 years ago, the British North sea fleet barricaded the Skagerrak and bottled up a large section of the German navy in Kiel harbor.

Text of Roosevelt's Message to Hitler and Moscicki in Page 5.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—With a forceful message to Adolf Hitler, and a milder communication to President Ignace Moscicki of Poland, President Roosevelt tonight renewed his efforts to keep Europe at peace.

He suggested three methods of settling the German claims to Danzig and the Polish Corridor—discussion between the Nazi and Polish governments, arbitration, or submission of the dispute to conciliation through a neutral third party.

Stephen T. Early, the White House secretary who made public the messages, told reporters that neither the President nor any member of the United States government was offering himself in the role of conciliator.

U. S. Not Involved.
Consequently, Early said, there was no possible suggestion of involving this government.

The President, Early said, did not have in mind another "Munich," since in both messages he said:

"Both Poland and Germany being sovereign governments, it is understood, of course, that upon resort to any one of the alternatives I suggest, each nation will agree to accord complete respect to the independence and territorial integrity of the other."

Early said the message to Hitler had been sent in sufficient time to have reached him at the moment it was given to the press here—10:15 p. m. (Atlanta time).

Messages Differ.

When the President sent his appeal in April to Hitler, the latter objected that it had been made public here and in various European nations, before it reached him.

While tonight's messages contained some identical language, there were passages in each far different in tone.

First of all, the President reminded Hitler that the latter had not done him the courtesy to reply to his last peace appeal, transmitted April 14. But, Mr. Roosevelt added, the cause of world peace rises above all such considerations.

"The people of the United States as one," he told Dr. Fuehrer, "in their opposition to policies of military conquest and domination. They are as one in rejecting the thesis that any ruler, or any people, possess the right to achieve their ends or objectives through the taking of action which will plunge countless millions of people into war and which will bring distress and suffering to every nation of the world, belligerent and neutral, when such ends and objectives, so far as they are just and reasonable, can be satisfied through processes of peaceful negotiation or by resort to judicial arbitration."

To Moscicki, the President said: "The rank and file of the popu-

INSURANCE LODGES TO PUT UP $100,000

Arnall Ruling Lets Commissioner Decide Which Shall Post Deposit.

Fraternal orders whose primary object is selling benefit insurance must place $100,000 deposit with the state commissioner of insurance as is required by law of all life insurance companies, Attorney General Ellis Arnall ruled yesterday.

In an opinion rendered at the request of W. B. Harrison, insurance commissioner, Arnall said that the commissioner is charged with the duty of investigating applications of fraternal orders to determine definitely whether they are primarily interested in writing insurance or in fraternal work.

"If you find that the operation is in fact merely an insurance operation and the cloak of fraternity is spread around and about it merely as a disguise and that the principal purpose of the operation is to engage in the insurance business with the fraternal being only incidental, then you are unauthorized to issue a permit to the applicant as a fraternal benefit society," Arnall told Harrison.

All fraternal groups whose fraternal work is found incidental to their insurance writing must abide by all laws of Georgia regulating life insurance companies, Arnall said.

Prune Whip Makes a Good Dessert

Not only good, but good for you, this glorified edition of an old favorite will be sure to please. Prune whip it is, served with individual cakes.

Glorified Prune Whip Suggested As New Version of Old Favorite

By SALLY SAVER.
Prune whip has been a favorite with us a long time. Given as a wholesome dessert when we were very young, it has kept a special corner in our affections from that day to this. Today I am offering a glorified version of this old favorite, and here's how to make it.

Glorified Prune Whip.
3 cups cooked prunes.
4 slices pineapple.
1 tablespoon granulated gelatin.
1 cup combined prune and pineapple juice.
18 marshmallows.
1-2 pint whipping cream.
1 teaspoon vanilla.

Pit prunes and cut into pieces. Cut pineapple into pieces. Soften gelatin in 1-4 cup of the fruit juice; boil remaining juice and dissolve softened gelatin in it. Cut marshmallows into pieces. Whip cream, add vanilla, and when gelatin begins to set combine with other ingredients and blend thoroughly. Chill and serve in stemmed glasses. Makes 10 servings.

Ideas from a Cook's Notebook.
Beet soup makes a splendid start for a "cold cuts" dinner. Select 4 medium-sized beets, peel them, cut in pieces and put in a saucepan with 6 cups of cold water. Boil very slowly for 45 minutes or until beets are very tender and the juice reduced to 3 cups. Strain off this juice, add 1 cup canned or fresh beef stock. One tablespoon lemon juice. One-half teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1 teaspoon sugar, and salt and pepper to season. Beat 2 eggs, add the hot soup gradually and serve at once with a little sweet or sour cream in each portion.

Cream Apple Pie.
Line a pie dish with rich crust, and slice into it the peeled apples. Add 1 cup sugar and 6 tablespoons of sweet thick cream. Sift a very little bit of flour over all, and sprinkle lightly with cinnamon. Bake slowly until firm and the apples are tender.

Spread slices of chilled beef with hot mashed potatoes, sprinkle the potatoes with chopped chives and roll up each slice. Place a dozen or so of these rolls in a shallow baking pan and cook under the broiler flame for 3 to 5 minutes. Serve piping hot with cold crisp salad for a hot day luncheon or supper.

Slices of ready-to-serve veal loaf sautéed in a little butter and served on toast with mushrooms or tomato sauce makes a delicious quick main dish for dinner.

Add two tablespoons cooking sherry to cream of asparagus or cream of pea soup to enrich the flavor.

STATE CODE REVISION IS URGED BY EDUCATOR

Special to THE CONSTITUTION.

ATHENS, Ga., Aug. 24.—Suggestion that the state legislature authorize a revision of the common law sections of the Georgia code is made by Dr. Thomas F. Green, professor of law at the University of Georgia, in an article, "Georgia's Next Code," in the August issue of the Georgia Bar Journal.

Dr. Green, in the article, points out that General Thomas R. R. Cobb hastily prepared these sections of the code in 1883 edition, which purported to codify the general principles of common law.

TORSO SUSPECT HANGS HIMSELF

Suicide in 'Cell Ends Case of Man Who Confessed, Denied Chop Murder.

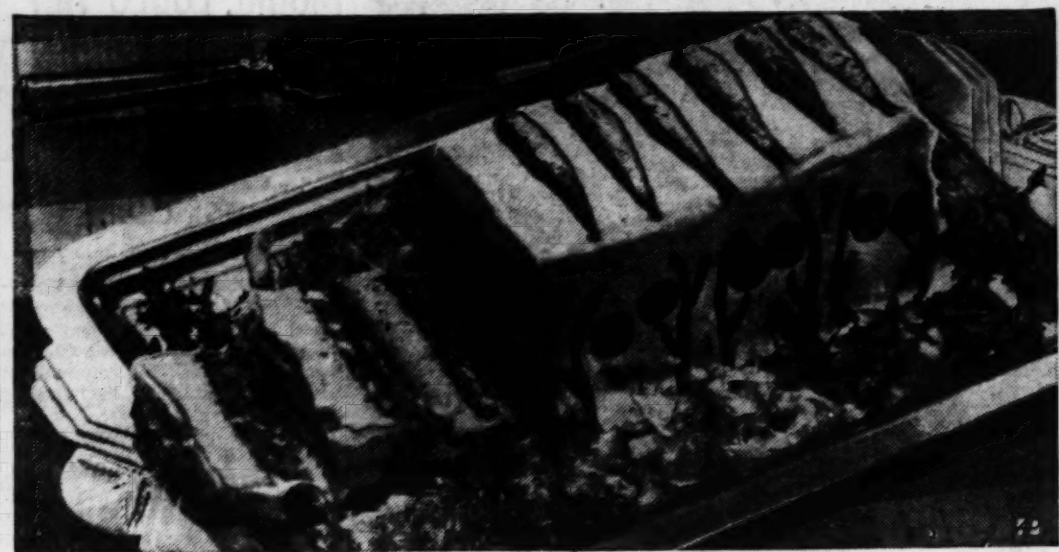

CLEVELAND, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Chief Jailer Michael Kilbane reported today Frank Dolezal, accused in one of the Cleveland torso murder slayings, committed suicide by hanging in his cell at county jail.

Dolezal was accused of slaying Mrs. Florence Polillo, listed as No. 3 among the city's 12 torso murder victims.

He was arrested after a private investigator working under Sheriff Martin L. O'Donnell reported he found bloodstains on a knife and the floor at Dolezal's apartment.

O'Donnell said he had obtained a confession from Dolezal in which he admitted Mrs. Polillo's slaying, but the accused later repudiated the confession. He was found suspended from a clothes hook by a ragged towel.

When a Modern Sandwich Goes Partying It's a Loaf

This is the way a modern sandwich looks when it is going to a party. A sandwich loaf is a grand idea for a special luncheon or a buffet supper or for after-bridge refreshments. It can be as pretty as your heart desires, and can contain exciting surprises in its three decks. This one is made of smoked sardines, hard-cooked eggs and shredded lettuce. It may be made ahead of serving time; in fact, a sandwich loaf thrives on hours of chilly atmosphere.

Sandwich Loaf Is Pretty Answer For Something New at Bridge Party

By SALLY SAVER.

A sandwich loaf is a pretty answer to your question of what would be nice for bridge refreshments, "something new and unusual." Sandwich loaves aren't exactly new, but you can make them with so many different kinds of filling and decorate them in so many fascinating ways they always will have something of newness and originality.

Have you ever tried to make one? Let's consider something of the mechanics of the making. In the first place you work with a whole loaf of bread at once. Instead of making individual sandwiches, you're making lots of sandwiches at one time. With a sharp knife remove the crusts of the whole loaf, just shave them off. Then slice the loaf into four lengthwise pieces of equal thickness, except the bottom slice can be slightly thicker than the others to facilitate serving. Use softened butter or margarine to spread all the slices, or you could spread them with mayonnaise. Then spread one filling on the bottom slice, lay it in place; spread the next filling on the next slice and place it on top of the bottom slice; then the third filling, with the fourth bread slice on top of it, and by now you have assembled the whole loaf.

Dressing It Up.
Now you are ready to dress the loaf. Soften a cupful of cream cheese with enough sweet cream to make it spread easily. With this, frost the top and sides as you would frost a cake. Cover lightly with waxed paper and chill an hour or more. Just before serving time transfer your loaf to a serving tray and decorate it with all the frills you please. Cheese spread through a pastry tube, sliced olives, pickles, tiny white pickled onions, strips of green or pimiento make beautiful decorations.

The loaf in the picture has sardines laid side by side across the top.

To serve cut into slices about an inch thick, with a sharp knife! Chilled fillings spread easier than moist ones, so make up your fillings in advance and chill them. A cupful of filling to a slice will be about right.

1 small loaf of bread
4 cans sardines
4 hard-cooked eggs, chopped fine
3-4 cup shredded lettuce
1-2 cup softened butter or margarine
1-8 teaspoon onion salt
Mayonnaise
Mash three cans of sardines with chopped eggs, lettuce, seasonings and add mayonnaise to moisten. Spread slices with this mixture and reassemble loaf. Cover entire loaf with a layer of stiff mayonnaise and lay sardines from fourth can across full length of top. Chill thoroughly and decorate with slices of olives.

For three different layers you might use:

1. Hard-cooked eggs, pickles, celery, parsley, peppers and salad dressing.
2. Tuna fish, olives, sweet pickles and mayonnaise.
3. White cream cheese, chopped olives, nuts and cream.

SMALL INCINERATOR UNITS URGED IN CITY

Branches Instead of One Large Garbage Disposal Plant Proposed.

Building of several "branch" incinerators in different locations in the city, instead of constructing the proposed one large $500,000 unit, was suggested to the city of Atlanta yesterday by members of the Fulton county planning commission at a meeting with Mayor Hartsfield.

Frank Neely and Eugene W. O'Brien, members of the commission, outlined the plan and asked that city officials study it before proceeding.

Mayor Hartsfield said that the matter would be given full study. The commission advised the mayor it believed a study of the situation should be made to determine if the smaller plants would not be better for the growth of the city in the long run, it was said.

It was pointed out that the federal low-cost housing projects probably could use all the steam produced by small incinerators located near the housing projects. Thus, it was said, the small plants could add to the revenue of the city.

Present at the luncheon were Neely, O'Brien, Hartsfield, Councilman Frank Beck and Courtland Gilbert, secretary of the county planning commission.

Techwood Children Swim in Streets After Heavy Rains Doused City

Techwood children went swimming at their doorsteps yesterday when an old-fashioned gully-washer piled the waters deep in Hunnicutt street at Techwood drive. The white line on the cars marks the crest the flood reached. Waters receded quickly when city construction crews jumped in their trucks, and cleaned out jammed catch basins, releasing stalled traffic.

Georgia's National Assemblymen Believe War Unlikely at Present

Lawmakers Take Optimistic View of Crisis in Europe; Think President Would Call Special Session for Neutrality if Conflict Comes.

As Europe's war crisis grew more grave by the hour last night, one Georgia senator and five congressmen viewed the situation with a degree of optimism.

Two of the five said they did not believe there would be war. Two others said in the event of war they did not believe the United States would become involved. Four commended President Roosevelt for his peace plea to King Victor Emmanuel, of Italy. Five predicted the President would call an extra session of congress to strengthen neutrality laws if war should come.

Here are their opinions: Senator Walter F. George: "President Roosevelt's plea was directed to the right quarters. There is a substantial reason to believe that Mussolini may be in a position to play an important role in the present crisis."

Congressman M. C. Tarver, of Dalton: "We all, of course, realize the gravity of the European situation and the possibility of an outbreak at any minute, and in case of war, I feel sure that President Roosevelt would call an immediate session of congress. I still feel sure that actual warfare will not result and I feel that the President will not call an extra session until there is an actual beginning of hostilities."

Congressman Paul Brown, of Elberton: "If war breaks in Europe I think congress will be called back and the neutrality bill which failed to pass the senate will be the first thing considered. In case of war I certainly do not think we will become involved."

Congressman A. Sidney Camp, of Newnan: "War is closer to Europe tonight than at any time since the World War. Developments during the next few hours may precipitate Europe into the second world war. In the event of war I think President Roosevelt will call congress into special session to consider and strengthen neutrality laws. Any attempt to have the United States interfere or meddle with European affairs will be beaten down in congress."

"I stand for preparedness and the strictest neutrality. Now is the time for the United States to mind its own business and keep its nose out of European affairs. President Roosevelt is to be commended for his plea for world peace and it is hoped that even yet the conference the exception of Techwood Flats, reported little trouble. Trucks and passenger cars stalled on Hunnicutt street at Techwood drive, when water draining from Peachtree, West Peachtree, Spring and Williams street reached their motors. Deep water was reported at Hemphill and Fourteenth street, and in low spots on West Peachtree between Fourteenth street and Pershing Point.

Cars Stopped 20 Minutes. West Peachtree street car service, interrupted between Fourteenth street and Pershing Point, was resumed after 20 minutes.

Approximately 150 telephones were put out of order by the downpour, Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Company officials stated.

Most of the trouble was on the Hemlock exchange in the neighborhood of Tenth street, while a sprinkling of Dearborn exchange phones were reported out. Full service had been resumed last night.

Isolated trouble spots reported during the day went to the Buckhead flats, and low places in Grant park and West End sections.

MOORE IS NAMED BY CANADA DRY

Georgian Elected Vice President of Corporation.

Kingman Moore, southeastern manager of Canada Dry Ginger Ale, Inc., said last night he had been notified of his election to the vice presidency of the corporation.

A native of Macon, Ga., where he engaged in the automobile business, Moore said he planned to take over his new duties October 1 and that his headquarters would be in New York city.

Moore has been associated with Canada Dry for about four years. His home is in Miami, Fla.

at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam M. Franklin at 960 Austin avenue. The fire, caused by a bolt of lightning striking wires leading into the house was confined to the attic. Firemen abandoned their truck in shallow water a short distance from the scene, and waded to the house carrying chemical extinguishers.

Atlanta's cloudburst was the city's part of generally wet weather prevailing yesterday from Buffalo, N. Y., to Miami. More showers are due today, the Weather Bureau forecast last night.

MOORE LOSES TILT IN CLAYTON OUSTER

Accused Commissioner Plans to Carry Demurrer to High Court.

T. Grady Moore, Clayton county commissioner of roads and revenues, yesterday lost the first round in his effort to defeat a petition brought by several Clayton citizens who seek his removal for alleged irregularities in handling county contracts.

Judge James C. Davis, of the Stone Mountain circuit, overruled Moore's demurrer to the charges, but the commissioner's attorney, W. E. Armistead, announced the ruling would be appealed to a higher court.

Moore's demurrer had set forth the citizens had no legal cause for action and therefore the suit should be dismissed. Judge Davis' ruling was to the effect the citizens did have ground for suit. The suit is scheduled for the November term of Clayton superior court but, if the demurrer is appealed to the higher court, the jury trial of the case will be held up pending the appellate court's decision.

The citizen group alleges that Moore sold the county merchandise from his store at higher than market prices, that other merchants were not given an opportunity to submit bids, and that his actions were not known to the other commissioners. On the basis of these charges they seek his removal from office.

GEORGIA EDITORS HEAR TALMADGE, WEIGH PROBLEMS

Press Group Gets 'Down to Brass Tacks' in Series of Discussions of Mutual Business Needs.

By HERMAN HANCOCK,

CALHOUN, Ga., Aug. 24.—Two hundred Georgia newspaper editors and executives attending the 53rd annual convention of the Georgia Press Association heard briefly today from former Governor Talmadge, talked shop, considered mutual problems, and capped off a busy day with a barbecue dinner given by Mayor James Reeve.

Many of the visitors tonight heard Roland Hayes, negro tenor, in a recital.

The editors got "down to brass tacks" in a series of discussions on circulation, advertising, job printing and other phases of work. A decentralized meeting, with the 10 congressional districts holding separate luncheons, took place early in the afternoon.

Floyd I. Hockenbush, editor of the Constitution, spoke on "How to Make Money From Circulation," giving many pointers, and then conducted a round-table discussion, assisted by Louie Morris, editor of the Hartwell Sun; Rush Burton, editor of the Lantern; Mrs. Roy McGinty, wife of J. Roy McGinty, Miss Frankie Trappnell, editor of the Metter Advertiser, and Henry Nevin, of the Dalton News. Editor A. W. Starling, of the Nashville Herald, presided over the meeting.

Talmadge spoke on "The Newspaper in a Democracy," and jokingly told the editors he had many compliments on the fact that his paper, The Statesman, presents both sides of all issues. He explained in a laughing mood that he had to explain the name of his paper when he registered.

McKenzie Perry, of the Montezuma Citizen-Georgian, discussed job printing; Warren Rhodes talked on "How to Effect Savings in Buying Paper"; Tom Arnold, editor of the Canton Tribune; Cleo Bailey, editor of the Dawson News; Herbert Wind, editor of the Cairo Messenger, and R. E. Hamilton, editor of the Dalton News, treated of various phases of job printing work.

Reports Presented.

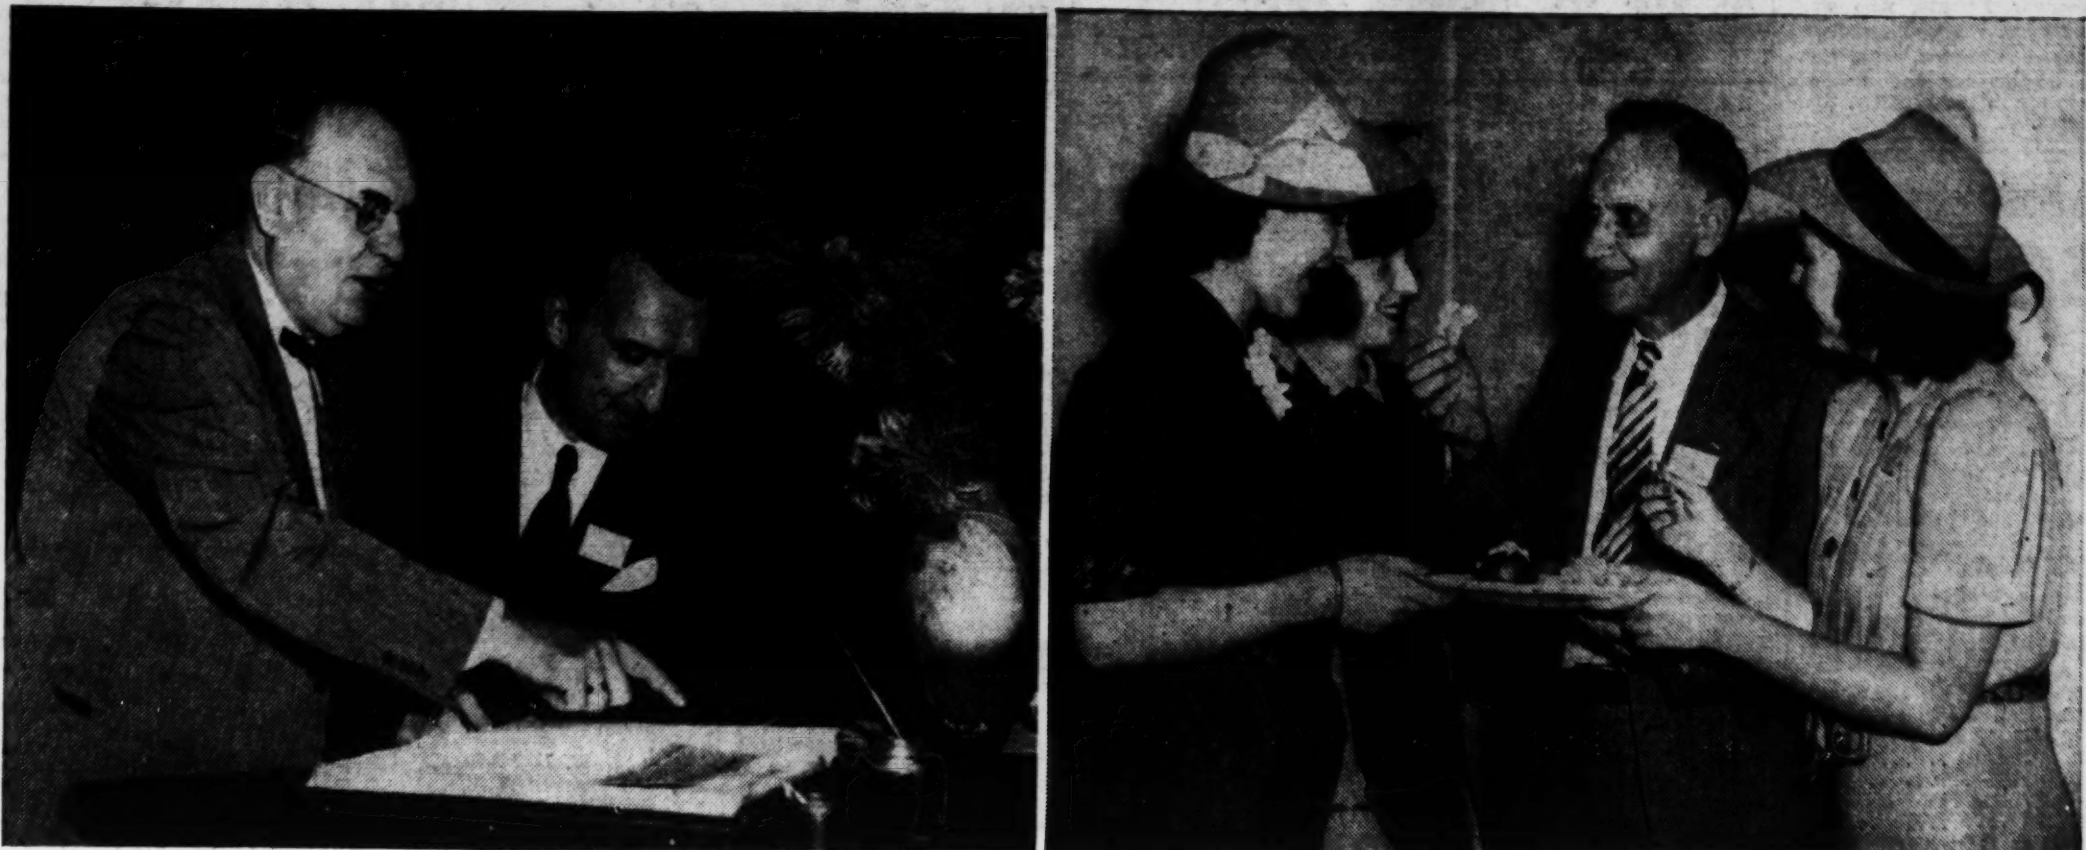

Reports of Jere N. Moore, association president; Hal M. Stanley, secretary-treasurer; Field Manager James C. Seymour, Institute Chairman Albert S. Hardy Sr., and the legislative committee of the association, delivered by Roy McGinty, also were features of today's session.

The legislative committee recommended support of a state law to require publication of detailed financial reports of local governments, and J. C. Seymour reported on his first year as field manager for the association.

Members of the association today were invited to participate in a tri-state meeting next year with the North and South Carolina associations at Highlands, N. C.

No definite date was set for the gathering, depending on the most acceptable time for the three as-

Georgia Press Personalities Get 'In the News' at 1939 Press Convention in Calhoun

H. H. Trotter (left), vice president and business manager of The Constitution, and John Drewry, director of the University of Georgia's Henry W. Grady School of Journalism, went in search of mutual friends yesterday as the Georgia Press Association began its deliberations in Calhoun. Here they are shown as they scanned a hotel register in quest of late arrivals, anxious to renew old acquaintances.

E. D. Shirey, Atlanta, of the Western Newspaper Union, found himself the center of feminine interest as the photographer captured this moment at an informal dinner Wednesday night in Calhoun's Baptist church. The young women, left to right, are Miss Ruth Martin, of the Ludowici News; Miss Perrellah Atkinson, of Calhoun; and Miss Betty Fleetwood.

GERMANY RELIEVED ON EVE OF STROKE

the Fuehrer and his advisers are more convinced than ever that the British and French will not fight. Accordingly, when the 30 German newspapermen still left in London urgently asked for instructions what to do, they were curtly told they must stick to their posts as there was no danger involved for them.

Also, German ships are arriving and leaving as though nothing were in the offing. There is an indulgent smile in Berlin for the anxiety of the Italians in not letting their big ocean liners leave their ports at this time.

From a military point of view, the entire emphasis is laid upon measures on the Polish border. There is no serious thought of any possibility of trouble from the west.

4. Preparations are going on as usual for the Tannenberg celebration next Sunday in East Prussia. This is done in the firm conviction that the "police action" will have been completed in time for the celebration to be held in perfect peace.

5. In order that Danzig, while awaiting deliverance from Polish "oppression," may not be unprotected, the armored cruiser "Schleswig-Holstein" will arrive in Danzig today at 8 a. m. (2 a. m. Atlanta time).

This cruiser carries 708 28-centimeter and 10 15-centimeter guns. It is thus more than a match for the Polish fortress of Hel.

Also, with its 13,000 tons it has bigger tonnage—according to the German belief—than the whole Polish fleet put together.

In other words, as Danzig has not been built by her own forces, she will have a swimming fortress equal to anything the Poles may pose against her.

Only Question of Time.

Such was the picture at midnight. What nobody could answer was: Just when will Adolf Hitler press the button for the "police action in Poland?"

And yet another question which nobody, not even Hitler, could answer was: What will the Poles do?

And finally: What will England and France do?

Hitler flew suddenly to the capital last night for his vital showdown talks.

Little Danzig produced ominous news, and the nationals of Britain, France and the United States were getting out of Germany as quickly as they could as Germany's Fuehrer and his prize statesman came together in Berlin.

Hitler made his surprise landing at 5:50 p. m. (11:50 a. m. Atlanta time) followed by four other trimmotored Junkers planes, bringing his immediate staff from his Obersalzberg chancellery.

Hitler Loses Cheer.

A very small crowd saw the Fuehrer come back and but few "heils" were heard.

Hitler looked cheery and tanned and he smiled as he stepped from the plane with his arm raised, saluting foreign officials in black and silver trimmed diplomatic uniforms. They had been waiting for Von Ribbentrop to return from Moscow with the pact.

Spotting the Italian ambassador, Bernardo Attolico, Hitler smilingly stepped up to him and shook hands, his eyes literally sparkling. A few minutes later the Fuehrer and his staff drove away to the chancellery.

Von Ribbentrop Arrives.

A scorching sun was about to set as two four-motored Condor planes and a biplane from the east, bringing Von Ribbentrop and his entourage back from Moscow.

Attolico patted Germany's foreign minister on the back and said in English, "It is big work, beyond all praise."

Von Ribbentrop left the airplane at 6:45, driving straight to the chancellery to deliver his report.

As soon as the Fuehrer's standard was raised over the chancellery in the Wilhelmstrasse, silent crowds gathered in front of the leader's residence.

Soldiers Rush About.

In the chancellery courtyard soldiers and elite guard troops raced about.

Several cars were parked in the yard and several more—all government machines—stood in the Wilhelmstrasse.

Millions of Germans went to bed realizing for the first time that Poland may be in the offing.

The press last was giving publicity to preparations for war in other countries.

Great-Grandmother, 89, Dies From Dance Fall

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 24.—(P)—Dancing, which Mrs. Elizabeth Saladin, 89-year-old great grandmother, pursued "to keep young," brought about her death. While dancing the "tumble-down," she fell and fractured her hip. She died of complications from the injury.

sociations, it was said.

Mayon Parker, of Ashok, N. C., is president of the North Carolina group, and Harold Booker is secretary of the South Carolina association.

The matter is slated for further consideration by the Georgia association, and a decision probably will be reached before adjournment Saturday.

Tomorrow, the editors will consider advertising as its shop subject. President Moore will preside over the morning, and Gordon Chapman over the afternoon sessions.

Speakers will include R. H. Rich, of Rich, Inc., Atlanta; Vice President McGinty; E. G. Eastman, Atlanta national advertising executive; R. E. L. Majors, editor of the Claxton Enterprise; Duncan Price, Harry Jennings, associate editor of the Union Recorder; Millledgeville; T. S. Gregory, editor of the Evanton Messenger; A. Belmont Dennis, editor of the Covington News; Milton Fleetwood, editor of the Cartersville Tribune; Otis Brumby, publisher of the Marietta Times, and Charles A. Rawson, of Rawson & Associates, Atlanta.

Memorial exercises, held annually in memory of deceased members, will be conducted by Ralph McGill, executive editor of The Atlanta Constitution, and Ed A. Caldwell, editor of the Walton News.

Another feature of the program will be a report by Albert S. Hardy Sr., editor of the Gainesville News, on the National Editorial Association meeting which he attended recently.

The convention will move during the afternoon to Rome, and will be guests of the Rome Chamber of Commerce at a dinner. John R. Hornady will welcome the party, and John Temple Graves will speak.

Glimmer of Hope for Peace Seen As German Ships Continue Sailings

Marine Men Recall Time of Munich Crisis When All Nazi Vessels Were Ordered Home; U. S. Liner Roosevelt Cancels Hamburg Stop.

NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—(P)—A survey made as all the world trembled with war fears showed tonight that not one of the larger Nazi passenger liners was in a German home port.

They continued to travel over the world on schedule in contrast to the time of the Munich crisis last September when craft flying the swastika were ordered turned around for home.

Marine men looked upon this as a good omen and recalled the plight of alien ships caught in foreign ports during the World War, notably the Vaterland of Imperial Germany which was interned by the United States, later to become the troopship Leviathan.

Officials of the (Polish) Gdynia-America line here expressed concern over their two luxury liners—the Batory and the Pilsudski, both built in Italian ship yards in exchange for Polish coal. The Batory was due to leave Gdynia tonight for New York. The Pilsudski was in mid-Atlantic, bound for Gdynia.

The war scare and the warning issued by the State Department cut passenger bookings sharply, the companies reported.

A consensus showed schedules were being maintained rigidly with the idea of evacuating Americans from Europe and returning Europeans to their homes.

PRESS PRAISE WON BY WOMEN WRITERS

Editorial Awards Chairman Cites Three Georgians as Leaders.

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION. CALHOUN, Ga., Aug. 24.—Three Georgia women have a high batting average as columnists, according to John Davis, editor of the Lake City (Fla.) Reporter, who is chairman of the committee judging awards for the Georgia Press Association in session here.

Mrs. A. Belmont Dennis, wife of the editor of the Covington News, writing "The Chatter Box"; Mrs. Virginia Polhill Price, Georgia national columnist and editor of the Louisville News and Farmer, who writes "Blossoming Beauties"; and Miss Jean Chapman, college girl daughter of G. S. Chapman, editor of the Sandersville Progress, writing "Bouquets and Bricks," were the women who won the praise of Davis.

"Women are just writing better columns in Georgia than the men are," Davis said. "That is a blunt and bold statement, but the men won't object much, and anyway it's so."

Davis has completed judging for trophies which will be presented later, when the decisions of the judges are announced.

Other Floridians who aided him in the selections were Tate Powell Jr., editor of the Baker County Progress, and Charles P. Helfenstein, editor of the Suwanee Democrat.

He warned that his praise of the women columnists should not be construed as designating any winners, but said he believed Georgians would like to know that the women are "actually leading in this field of newspaper endeavor."

JAPAN THREATENS FOREIGN REPRISAL

6,000 Troops Reported Massed for International Area.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 24.—(P)—Reliable foreign sources reported today that the Japanese army had landed 6,000 troops in the Shanghai area preparatory to "some action against the International Settlement."

The Japanese were said to have been planning to occupy the settlement, but to have postponed the action because of the Soviet Russian-German nonaggression pact negotiations which left them uncertain of their position in the world lineup.

Friction between Japanese and settlement authorities has been intensified since last Saturday, when British sergeant of the settlement police machine-gunned a squad of Chinese policemen.

(American, British, French and Italian troops totaling nearly 5,000 are stationed in the settlement.)

Maori dogs, now extinct in New Zealand, had no fleas.

FORSTER IS VOTED CHIEF OF DANZIG

Free City Quiet as Future Is Measured in Days, If Not Hours.

DANZIG, Aug. 23.—(P)—Danzig's Nazi party leader, Albert Forster, took charge of the Free City government today while the population waited tensely for some settlement of its fate.

The senate voted to make him chief of state, taking precedence over Arthur Greiser, hitherto head of the government as its senate president.

The city was quiet tonight, but where men gathered there was a tendency to measure the future in days, if not hours.

Many foreigners hurried out. Wives and families of many Polish officials left for Poland.

Official assurance was given that no troops had marched across the East Prussian frontier, but it was not denied that thousands of German soldiers were quartered there.

The British consul general, E. H. S. Shepherd, advised British residents who could, to leave, but said he was staying "until war breaks out, if it does."

Dixie-Bound Sparrow Hitch Hikes on Train

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Aug. 24. (P)—A little English sparrow was able to get a long way on its annual trip south without so much as flapping a wing.

T. B. Rosser, of Williamsport, mail transfer clerk, said the bird flew into a mail car at Buffalo, N. Y., and never left its roost on the emergency cord until the train arrived in Washington.

Interior decorations and arrangement of fixtures make the store one of the most beautiful to be found anywhere in the state. The fixtures are built in to fit the spacious floor, which is finished in rich maple. A large carpet covers the entire main floor.

White Georgia marble and pink Tennessee stone have been used in the construction of the new store front. This construction, together with the spacious windows, give the store added beauty.

JOHNSON IS MANAGER.

J. M. Johnson, who has been connected with Edwards Shoe Stores since their opening in Atlanta 16 years ago, will be in charge of the beautiful new store. Johnson pointed out that this season women's styles are more beautiful than ever. The Edwards stock includes the newest sueded, patents and soft kid leathers.

The Edwards "Energy Arch" and "Scientific Arch" shoes are nationally known for their comfort and style.

SHOES FOR CHILDREN.

The entire downstairs floor in the new store will be devoted to the proper fitting and selling of children's shoes. This floor has been equipped with displays that will be of special interest to children of all ages. Here will be found shoes for all youngsters from the smallest tot to the growing young girl or boy of teen age.

Final organization of the Sixth Ward Board of Trade and election of permanent officers were completed yesterday at a meeting of sixth ward citizens.

Robert R. Jennings unanimously was elected president. Other officers are J. O. Parrott, Dr. Earl W. Quillian and Wiley Moore, vice presidents; W. B. Griffith, secretary, and A. B. Bonn, treasurer.

Members of the executive board include Edgar Chambers, W. J. Scott, G. C. Livingston Jr., R. K. Rambo, F. E. Scanlon and William Woodruff. Others will be elected at the next meeting to be held at 1 o'clock Thursday in the Briarcliff hotel dining room.

The constitution and by-laws were adopted at the meeting yesterday. Principal objectives of the board of trade will be to promote commercial interests, professional interests, real estate development and the general welfare of the sixth ward. It also will interest itself in education, recreation and public health.

Membership will be restricted to men in the sixth ward who are organized in business or any of the established professions or who are holders of real estate. Committees to be appointed at the next meeting include advertising, finance, merchandising, real estate, objective, professional and publicity. There also will be special membership, telephone and program committees.

The board of trade is to be incorporated, Jennings said.

GEORGE TO UNDERGO OPERATION ON EYES

Cataracts To Be Removed Unless Congress War Session Is Called.

By GLADSTONE WILLIAMS.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Unless President Roosevelt calls a special session of congress in the near future to deal with the acute international situation, Senator Walter F. George, of Georgia, today revealed he will undergo a major eye operation in New York next Wednesday, August 30.

The operation, he said, would be performed in the Presbyterian hospital, which he will enter next Monday, by Dr. J. H. Dunnington, head of the New York Eye Institute, who is considered one of the greatest optic specialists in the world.

"For more than 12 years," the senator said here today, "I have been troubled with posterior cataracts of both eyes. While I have not suffered materially from them, my sight has been growing dimmer and dimmer, until, within recent months, I have experienced great difficulty in reading without very close application."

"Late last January I went to New York for a consultation with Dr. Dunnington who advised me at that time to submit to an operation just as soon as my congressional duties would permit."

Accompanied by Mrs. George, the senator will leave Washington for New York next Saturday, but will not enter the Presbyterian hospital until the following Monday. Dr. Dunnington will operate on one eye first and after that has sufficiently healed he will operate on the other. It is considered probable that Senator Georgia will be confined to the hospital for six weeks or two months.

Mrs. George has taken an apartment near the hospital and will remain by the senator's side throughout his confinement, she said.

RE-ZONING ASKED FOR LIQUOR STORE

Action Sought on 25-Acre Tract Near Murphy, Lakewood Avenues.

A petition to zone for business a 25-acre tract around the intersection of Murphy and Lakewood avenues was tabled by the Fulton county board of zoning appeals yesterday afternoon, Courtland Gilbert, secretary of the county planning commission, announced.

The petition was brought in the name of the Luckie Operating Company to zone for business one location at Lakewood and Murphy avenues for a liquor store.

Gilbert said another petition to re-zone for the liquor store, and a separate petition for the remainder of the 25 acres, designating the type of business for which it would be used, is to be brought in later.

The board approved zoning a lot at 2109 Stewart avenue for business to permit L. W. Ryline to build a liquor store there.

RIVERS CONSIDERS LIST OF PROSPECTS IN BIBB JUDGESHIP

Solicitor Garrett, Penal Board Secretary Anderson Mentioned Among Most Likely Selections.

Governor Rivers last night was understood to be considering a long list of prospective appointees to the Bibb superior court judgeship made vacant by the recent death of Judge W. A. McClellan.

Capitol gossip said the post might be offered to Solicitor General Charles H. Garrett, of Macon, or to A. M. (Phil) Anderson, executive secretary of the State Penal Board.

Garrett, it is understood, is not an applicant for the place, but it was known that a number of the Governor's friends are urging him to tender the appointment to the solicitor general. In the event Garrett is elevated to the bench, it was said that Anderson would be offered the post of solicitor general.

Anderson lives at Perry. The circuit includes Bibb, Crawford, Peach and Houston counties. Until Judge McClellan was elected four years ago one of the two judges on the circuit usually resided in Macon and the other in one of the rural counties. Judge Malcom D. Jones, of Macon, is senior member of the court.

UNITED HELD IN MACON FOR JUDGE McCLELLAN
MACON, Ga., Aug. 24.—(P)—Judge W. A. McClellan, of the Macon superior court circuit, died yesterday after a long illness at the age of 63.

Funeral services were held this afternoon, with burial in a Macon cemetery.

During his 32 years' private practice, Judge McClellan successfully defended 155 clients on charges for which the maximum penalty was death.

He was born November 16, 1875, of Scotch-Irish ancestry in Effingham county, near Oliver.

He received his early education in Macon common schools, and after graduation from high school taught in the rural schools of Emanuel county. He was for five years principal of Summit High school, which later became the Emanuel County Institute.

He received a Mercer University law degree in 1902. Two years later he married Miss Fraser Bunker, of Florida. Two children were born to this union, W. A. McClellan Jr. and Mary McClellan, now Mrs. Thomas J. Porter. All survive him.

He was a member of the Methodist church.

3 BRIDGE WORKERS DIE IN LOUISIANA

Huge Pulley Tears Loose, Crashes 150 Feet.

BATON ROUGE, La., Aug. 24.—(P)—A huge steel pulley block, weighing nearly a ton, hurtled today from atop the Mississippi river bridge under construction here, killing three workmen.

Two men, astride the block after fastening it to cables, fell screaming with it to a steel barge moored in the river 150 feet below. They were William Buford, 38, Plainview, Ark., and James B. Brooks, 24, Oklahoma City.

The massive block fell clear of its boom and shattered a scaffold on which Archie MacLeod, 43, Augusta, Maine, was working. He was swept into space and drowned.

Three other workmen were slightly injured by flying debris and wires.

Today's deaths brought to eight the number of men killed working on the $10,000,000 bridge since construction began two years ago.

ELLIS ARNALL SPEAKS.

GAINESVILLE, Ga., Aug. 24.—(P)—Attorney General Ellis Arnall, of Newnan, addressed the Gainesville Kiwanis Club yesterday, speaking on present day conditions in state affairs.

Charley Hoss Puts Fire Chief 'On Shelf'

"Doc" C. C. Styron, Atlanta's noteworthy fisherman and, incidentally, fire chief, was all laid up yesterday with the charley hoss at the Alabama street fire headquarters, where he makes his home.

The chief couldn't walk. He'd been down to Jacksonville and Daytona Beach for several days' fishing, accompanied by Mrs. Styron. He did very well with his lines and hooks until he walked into a sandhole.

Some people would have called the resultant injury a strain or sprain, but Mrs. Styron said it didn't rate beyond charley hoss, and wouldn't interfere with the official trip pending to the San Francisco meeting of fire chiefs.

BANKHEAD PRAISES NEW DEAL RECORD

Speaker Says None Can Claim Perfect Record.

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Aug. 24.—(P)—Speaker William B. Bankhead, Democrat, Alabama, a few hours after indicating his own willingness to accept the 1940 Democratic presidential nomination, praised today the New Deal's record under President Roosevelt.

National representative from the 74th Alabama district since 1917, Bankhead spoke before the state legislature on a joint invitation.

Much administration-sponsored legislation was singled out for praise, but Bankhead said "none of us who had a part in formulating the policies that have been enacted into law under this administration can justly claim that no mistakes have been made."

CHAMBERLAIN GRANTED VIRTUAL DICTATORIAL AUTHORITY

BRITAIN INFORMED 'IMMINENT PERIL OF WAR' IS FACED

Nation Hastily Prepares to Meet Danger With Calmness; Unity Behind Premier Is Stressed.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain solemnly told Britain today that it was in "imminent peril of war," and the nation hurriedly but calmly prepared to meet the danger.

Parliament, answering an appeal by Chamberlain for speedy action, passed without a record vote an emergency powers bill giving the government virtual dictatorial authority and suspending some civil liberties; King George, having cut short a vacation to hurry to London in the crisis, immediately gave assent to the measure.

The British navy was reported to have strung a barrier across the Skagerrak, strategic channel commanding the entrance to the Baltic sea; the foreign office advised British subjects to cancel vacations abroad; women and children left London for the country; workmen silently but hurriedly built air raid shelters in London's parks, and gleaming anti-aircraft guns were manned there.

Tourists Advised to Leave.
American tourists in England, Scotland and Wales—there are between 3,000 and 4,000 of them—were advised by Ambassador Joseph P. Kennedy to go home immediately.

Museums in London were closed and steps were taken to move art treasures to safer places; precious stained glass windows in Canterbury cathedral were being removed and taken to an unknown underground vault; all London school teachers were ordered to return from vacation and report at their schools Saturday to prepare for possible evacuation of children to the country.

The tenor of all this preparation was one of calmness and determination. This was a keynote sounded for the nation by tall, 70-year-old Chamberlain in a speech to the house of commons reviewing recent events and urging passage of the war-time emergency bill.

Explains Position.
Chamberlain told commons that Wednesday's diplomatic message to Chancellor Hitler, delivered by the British ambassador and restating Britain's position, was answered by Hitler with a demand for a free hand for Germany in eastern Europe.

Hitler added that any country which interfered was to blame for any war that might ensue, Chamberlain related.

He implored Hitler to settle his dispute with Poland by negotiation, but he firmly repeated that Britain would stand by her pledge to assist Poland in event she resists a threat to her independence.

"As we think, so shall we fight, as a united nation," he said. Commons arose and cheered this.

Nation's Unity Stressed.
And the British press almost as a single voice stressed the nation's unity in support of Chamberlain in his course in the crisis.

In passing the emergency powers bill parliament agreed to these provisions:

The King shall have power to issue decrees having the force of law:

Any property or undertaking except land may be taken over by the government;

Any premises may be entered and searched;

The secretary of state may order any arrest he deems expedient;

Judicial proceedings may be heard in secret if the court deems it expedient;

The government may put into operation immediately any measures considered necessary for the national safety, such as taking over railways and other transportation, controlling food supplies and directing defense against air attack.

After passing the measure parliament adjourned until next Thursday, but Chamberlain told it significantly:

"I sincerely hope members will hold themselves in readiness so that at quite short notice, which I anticipate is extremely likely, the house may be asked to meet before the date mentioned in the (adjournment) motion."

Lord Halifax, Great Britain's foreign secretary, appealed directly to Adolf Hitler in a world-wide broadcast to heed the peace pleas of Pope Pius, President Roosevelt and King Leopold of the Belgians.

David Lloyd George—last survivor of the "Big Four" of the last world war—snapped above on his way to the emergency session of British parliament to help consider what is to be done in the face of the new world war threat. Wilson, Orlando and Clemenceau, his colleagues of 1918, are gone.

This may be "No Man's Land" tomorrow! Peace hung trembling over this 320-mile axis between Berlin and Warsaw yesterday as Adolf Hitler stood adamant in his demands that Poland become a Nazi "protectorate," give up Danzig and all pre-war German territory, or else be partitioned at the bayonet's point. Map shows high spots in the crisis' developments. Broken line sets off former German territory now embraced in Poland.

Text of Chamberlain Speech Summarizing War Crisis for Parliament

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The text of Prime Minister Chamberlain's speech to the house of commons follows:

In the last debate we had upon foreign affairs, which took place July 31, I observed that the Danzig situation required very careful watching. I expressed my anxiety about the pace at which the accumulation of war weapons was proceeding throughout Europe.

I referred to the poisoning of public opinion by propaganda which was going on, and I declared that if that could be stopped, and if some action could be taken to restore confidence, I did not believe that there was any question which could not be solved by peaceful discussion.

Imminent Perils of War.
I am sorry to say that there have been no signs since of any such action, but on the contrary the international position has steadily deteriorated until today we find ourselves confronted with the imminent perils of war.

At the beginning of August, a dispute arose between the Polish government and the Danzig senate as to the position and functions of certain Polish customs officials. It was not a question of major importance. Many more acute difficulties have been easily settled in the past in less tense conditions and in this case discussions had actually begun between the parties last week.

While these discussions were in progress the German press opened a violent campaign against the Polish government. They declared that Danzig could be the subject of any conference or any compromise, but that it must come back to the Reich at once unconditionally.

Like Czech Propaganda.
They went further, and linked up the question with the question of the corridor and attacked the whole policy and attitude of the Polish government and published circumstantial accounts of alleged ill-treatment of Germans living in Poland.

We have no means of checking the accuracy of these stories, but we cannot help being struck by the fact that they bear a strong resemblance to similar allegations that were made in respect of the Sudeten-Germans in Czechoslovakia.

We must also remember that there is a large Polish minority in Germany and that the treatment of that minority has also been the subject of bitter complaint by the Polish government.

There is no subject which is calculated to arouse ill-feeling in any country more than statements about the ill-treatment of people of their own race in another country.

Material for Conflagration.
That is a subject which provides the most inflammable of all materials—a subject most likely to cause a general conflagration, in these circumstances, one can but deeply regret that such incidents, which if they were established beyond a shadow of doubt, would naturally excite sympathy for the victims and indignation against the authors of this alleged ill-treatment, should be treated in a way which is calculated still further to embitter the atmosphere and to raise the temperature to danger point.

Praises Polish Leaders.
It must, I think, be agreed that in the face of this campaign, declarations by the Polish statesmen have shown great calm and self-restraint. The Polish leaders, while they have been firm in their determination to resist attack upon their independence, have been unprovocative.

Berlin Reaction Resented.
I do not propose this afternoon to pass any final judgment upon the incident. That, I think would be premature until we have had an opportunity of consulting with the French government as to the meaning and consequences of this agreement, the text of which was only published this morning, but the question which the government had to consider when they learned of this announcement was what effect, if any, this changed situation would have upon their own policy.

In Berlin the announcement was hailed with extraordinary cynicism as a great diplomatic victory which removed any danger of war since we and the French would no longer be likely to fulfil our obligations to Poland. We felt it our first duty to remove any such dangerous impression.

Obligation to Poland.
The house will recollect that the undertaking which we have given to Poland was given before any agreement was talked of with Russia and that it was not in any way made dependent on any such agreement being reached, how could we with honor go back upon such an obligation which we had so often and so plainly repeated?

Therefore our first act was to issue a statement that our obligations to Poland and other countries remained unaffected.

These obligations rest upon agreed statements made to the house of commons to which effect has been given in treaties which are at present in an advanced stage of negotiation. These treaties, when concluded, will formally define our obligations, but they do not in any way alter, as to our obligations to Poland, the obligations of mutual assistance which had already been accepted.

Denies Acts of Menace.
The communique which we issued to the press after the meeting of the cabinet this week spoke also of certain further measures of defense which we have taken. As I have said, Germany has an immense army of men already under arms and military preparations of all kinds have been and are being carried on on a vast scale in that country.

The measures that we have taken up to now are of a precautionary character. Nothing can affect the determination to put this country in a state of preparedness to meet any emergency, but I wish emphatically to repudiate any suggestion, if such suggestion should be made, that these measures imply an act of menace.

Nothing that we have done or that we propose to do, menaces the legitimate interests of Germany.

Bank Rate Increased.
It is no act of menace to prepare to help friends to defend themselves against force. If neighbors, wishing to live together in peaceful and friendly relations, find that one of them is contemplating an aggressive act of force against one of them and making open preparations for action, it is not a menace if the others announce their intention of aiding the one who is the subject of this threat.

There is another action which has been taken today in the financial sphere. Members will have seen the announcement that the bank rate has today been raised to 4 per cent.

The house will recognize that this is a normal protective measure adopted for the purpose of defending our resources in a period of uncertainty.

How Public Can Help.
There is in this connection a contribution to be made by citizens generally.

The public can best co-operate by reducing, as far as possible, any demands, directly or indirectly for the purchase of foreign exchange. Next, by scrupulously observing the chancellor's request that capital should not at present be sent or moved out of the country, and finally by holding no more foreign assets than are strictly required for the normal purpose of the business.

In view of the attitude in Berlin to which I have already referred, His Majesty's government felt that it was their duty at this moment to leave no possible loophole for misunderstanding and so that no doubt might exist in the mind of the German government, His Majesty's ambassador in Berlin was instructed to seek an interview with the German chancellor and hand him a message from me to the British government. That message was delivered yesterday and the reply was received today.

Position Made Clear.
The object of my communication to the German chancellor was to restate our position and make quite sure there was no misunderstanding. His Majesty's government felt that this was all the more necessary having regard to the reports which we had received as to the military movements taking place in Germany and as to the projected German-Soviet agreement.

I, therefore, made it plain, as had been done in the communique issued after the cabinet met on Tuesday, that if the case should arise His Majesty's government were resolved and prepared to employ without delay all the forces of their command.

On numerous occasions I have stated my conviction that war between our two countries, admitted on all sides to be the greatest calamity that could occur, is not desired either by our own people or by the German people.

Asked for Truce.
With this fact in mind I informed the German chancellor that our view there was nothing in the questions arising between Poland and Germany which could not and should not be resolved without the use of force if only a situation of confidence could be restored.

We have expressed our willingness to assist in creating the conditions in which such negotiations could take place, but the present state of tension creates great difficulties, and I expressed the view that if there could be a truce on all sides to press polemics and to lay down the conditions for a settlement might be established for direct negotiations between Germany and Poland upon the points between them.

Nazis Demand Free Hand.
The negotiations could, of course, deal also with complaints made on either side about the treatment of minorities, but the German chancellor's reply includes what amounts to a restatement of the German thesis, that in eastern Europe Germany should have a free hand.

If we or any other country having less direct interest in this thesis, chooses to interfere, the blame for the ensuing conflict will be ours.

This thesis entirely misrepresents the British position.

We do not seek to proclaim a special position for ourselves in eastern Europe. We do not think of asking Germany to sacrifice her national interests, but we cannot agree that national interests can only be secured by the shedding of blood or by the destruction of the independence of other states.

Denies Influencing Poles.
As regards the relations between Poland and Germany, the German chancellor in his reply to me has referred again to the situation in Danzig, drawing attention to the position of that city, and to the corridor, and to the offer he made early this year to settle this question by methods of negotiation.

I have repeatedly refuted the allegations that it was our guarantee to Poland that decided the Polish government to refuse the proposals then made. That guarantee was not, in fact, given until after the Polish refusal had been conveyed to the German government.

In view of the delicacy of the situation, we have refrained from any comment upon the communication which has just passed between the two governments. The catastrophe has not yet come upon us.

Still Hope for Sanity.
We must therefore still hope that that reason and sanity may find a way to reassert themselves.

The pronouncements that were made recently and what I have said today reflect the views, I am sure, of the French government with whom we have maintained throughout the customary close contact in pursuance of our well-established cordial relations.

Naturally our minds turn to the dominions. We appreciate very warmly the pronouncements made by ministers in every part of the British commonwealth, and the indications which have been given from time to time, in some cases as recently as yesterday, show their sympathy in our efforts in the cause of peace. And in the unhappy event of their proving unsuccessful, are a source of profound encouragement to use in these critical times.

Praises Oslo Appeal.
The house will, I am sure, have noted with appreciation the appeal for peace made yesterday by King Leopold to the heads of the Oslo states at the meeting in Brussels, and it will be evident from what I have said that his majesty's government share the hope to which that appeal has given expression and earnestly trust that effect will be given to it.

The foreign secretary in a speech made on June 29 at the Royal Institute of International Affairs, set out the fundamental basis of British foreign policy. That speech, I believe, was received with general approval.

He said in the first place, it was our determination to resist methods of force. Secondly, there was a recognition of the world's desire to pursue constructive work of building peace.

Must Have Confidence.
If we were once satisfied that the intentions of others were the same as our own, if we were satisfied that all wanted a peaceful solution, then indeed we could discuss the problems which are today causing the world so much anxiety.

That definition of basic British policy still stands. We want to see established international order based upon mutual understanding and mutual confidence.

We cannot build up such an order unless it conforms to certain principles which are essential to the establishment of confidence and trust. Those principles must include the observance of international undertakings when they have once been entered into and the renunciation of force in the settlement of differences.

"I Have Done My Best."
It is because those principles to which we attach so much vital importance seem to us to be in jeopardy that we have undertaken these tremendously unprecedented responsibilities.

If, despite all our efforts to find a way of peace—and God knows I have done my best—if in spite of all that, we find ourselves forced to embark upon a struggle which is bound to be fraught with suffering and misery for all mankind and the end of which no man can foresee; if that should happen, we shall not be fighting for a political future of a far-away city in a foreign land.

We shall be fighting for the preservation of those principles of which I have spoken and the de-

MARKETS NERVOUS OVER WAR CRISIS

Cotton Strengthened, Bonds and Stocks Down After Rally.

By The United Press.
Conflicting news bulletins and unconfirmed rumors regarding European developments swung world markets through a nervous course Thursday. There was no panicky selling, however.

Stocks at New York closed irregular after a mid-session rally had lifted prices 1 to 7 points from a break to new lows since April 28. Sales approximated 1,290,000 shares. The Dow-Jones 65 stocks composite average lost only 6-100th of a point.

Bonds were harder hit. Nine U. S. government bonds reached new 1939 lows on losses ranging to more than a point. Foreign government bonds had losses extending to five points, with some at record lows.

Commodities in the United States were erratic. Wheat and world sugar futures—leading war staples—lost early sharp gains and closed little higher. Cotton and rubber strengthened.

British markets followed a war pattern. The Bank of England doubled its discount rate from 2 to 4 per cent, while officials fixed minimum levels for gilt-edged bonds, including government bonds.

Stocks dipped, but selling was forestalled when dealers marked prices down. Most English commodity markets soared, but copper declined when unlicensed exports were banned.

Paris and Amsterdam markets also weakened, but closing prices generally were above the day's lows.

The dollar was strong. European released gold on fears the metal might be commandeered by the various governments. Silver, however, had one of its sharpest gains in recent years.

NAZI TROOPS MOVE ON FRENCH BORDER

BRUSSELS, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Movements of German troops in the Rhineland in the direction of Treves on the French frontier were reported tonight. It was assumed they were to strengthen the Reich's "west wall" of fortifications.

All German lines of fortification in the west have been placed on full footing of preparedness since Fuehrer Adolf Hitler's recent tour of inspection of the Siegfried Line, it was said.

FRANCE RUSHES DEFENSE PREPARATIONS; WAR IS EXPECTED

AMERICANS URGED TO LEAVE COUNTRY BY U. S. EMBASSY

Calling Up of Reservists Proceeds Rapidly as Government Takes Full Charge of Arms Plants.

PARIS, Aug. 24.—(AP)—France rushed defense preparations to-night in fear the worst might come at any moment.

Officials told all in Paris whose presence was "not absolutely indispensable" to depart. The United-States embassy advised Americans to leave France, and many were doing so.

Diplomatic circles reported communications with Poland had been disrupted since 5 p. m. (11 a. m. Atlanta time.)

(The Associated Press in London, however, re-established communications with the Polish capital after several hours of interrupted service.)

Call Up Reservists.

Calling up of reservists proceeded rapidly. Vehicles of all sorts were commandeered. Emergency patrols guarded "danger areas" and a union government, embracing all save perhaps the Communists, was projected.

The government took full control of all private factories manufacturing war materials. Employees on vacation were ordered back to work. The managements were told they were under government orders.

Hopes that war could be avoided were still expressed, but pessimism was predominant. Official quarters felt that the only safe policy was to count on war and be ready for it.

See Likelihood of War.

Men in close contact with developments and not given to exaggerated impressions said:

"There are still chances for peace, but the likelihood of war is greater."

Outstanding developments of the day, as judged here, were the elevation of Danzig Nazi leader, Albert Forster, to chief of state in the Free City and the peace appeals of President Roosevelt and Pope Pius.

The appeals were welcomed, but were conceded little chance of success. Announcement that Forster is now chief of the free state of Danzig was viewed by commentators as creating a "fait accompli" (accomplished fact)—as having separated Danzig from the League of Nations control.

Mobilization Nearly Complete. Five classes of reservists were streaming from all parts of the country to concentration centers. Tonight, the calling of three more classes would make the mobilization complete.

Latest available estimates were that some 2,000,000 men were under arms in France and Germany territory. Troops in the south were moving in large numbers to the Italian border. The Maginot line, opposite Germany, has long been fully manned.

Sausage balloons were in the air on the French side of the German frontier zone. From Nice, east to the Italian border along the Riviera, squads of black Senegalese sharpshooters guarded the coast, bridges and other vital points.

Many Leave Paris. Thousands of French families already had left the capital and found quarters in small towns and villages away from military objectives. An organized large-scale exodus from Paris was planned in case war breaks out. Plans for accommodating the refugees by means of special trains were completed months ago.

Premier Daladier announced that he would make a broadcast to the nation tomorrow night. The hour for it had not been set.

The result of Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop's conference with Adolf Hitler on returning from Moscow was awaited with anxiety. War or peace, it was believed, hinged on their decision.

The situation was viewed as so acute that street lights in Paris and other big cities were equipped with weak bulbs not likely to be visible from the air.

Although the normal staff was still in its place at the German embassy in Paris, it was learned that the Countess Von Welzeck, wife of the ambassador, had returned to Berlin.

Foreign military observers worked far into the night over maps and reports, keeping their governments advised on developments and possibilities.

POLAND MAY WARN DANZIG OF LIMITS

Nation, Believing Climax Is Near, Reasserts It Will Fight.

WARSAW, Aug. 24.—(AP)—A sharp definition of Poland's "limit of forbearance" was believed in some quarters to be under consideration tonight as this war-born and war-threatened nation of 35,000,000 people made itself completely ready for any fate.

Some of the reports envisaged a possible sharp warning from Poland to the excited Free City of Danzig—a warning which would state clearly and concisely what would be considered "unacceptable violation" of Polish rights.

There was a conviction in Polish circles generally that the climax of the European drama was being reached, and that the time had come, with all Europe alive and ready, to make Poland's position once more clear beyond doubt.

There was no confirmation here of reports that Foreign Minister Jozef Beck had been invited to Berchtesgaden by Adolf Hitler, and it was generally held that the Polish minister would not consider such an invitation.

Polish opinion, it was pointed out, would regard such a move as tantamount to yielding, and too reminiscent of the German procedure toward Austria and Czechoslovakia.

Significance was seen, however, in conferences today between Foreign Minister Beck, British Ambassador Sir Howard Kennard and French Ambassador Leon Noel, at which, it was believed, the Polish position of the movement was definitely established.

Meanwhile Poland determinedly continued to bulwark her frontiers and to tighten up the mobility and efficiency of her large army.

The Polish press emphasized Poland's unwavering determination to defend her "rights and territory," regardless of consequences. "Poland is ready," declared a typical newspaper headline. "We answer with contempt the bluff of Hitler. Any invasion will be met with guns."

Important to Poland was whether Polish customs rights would be interfered with by the newly proclaimed change in the status of the Free City through the election of Albert Forster as chief of state.

Responsible circles were silent on this matter tonight except to state that "it would seem to involve a breach in the legal status of Danzig."

(The League of Nations statute setting up Danzig as a Free City provided any change in its constitution must be approved by the league.)

War Tension Mounts

ORCHESTRA IN BERLIN PLAYS SOVIET SONG

BERLIN, Aug. 24.—(UP)—An orchestra played the Internationale, rallying song of Communism, in a large downtown cafe last night. All patrons stood as soon as they recognized the piece.

Since the signing of the German-Soviet nonaggression pact, dozens of Germans have rung the doorbell of the Soviet, entered the antechamber, shouted "Heil Moscow," turned and walked out.

BRITISH AND FRENCH JAM BERLIN TRAINS

Several hundred British and French and a few Americans heeded the warnings of their embassies to leave Germany. The Nord express to Paris was sold out.

Polish cities by telephone and telegraph was interrupted tonight and the post office department, which has charge of these utilities in Britain, said it could not say when communications could be resumed.

German Troops Moved Into Fortifications on Belgian Border

BRUSSELS, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Long lines of German military trucks were reported today by border observers to be moving within sight of the Belgian town of Eupen, former German territory.

German fortifications facing the Belgian border were reported authoritatively to have been occupied during the night. Numerous artillery pieces were seen being drawn into place.

ISTANBUL, Turkey, Aug. 24.—(UP)—Baron Franz von Papen, German ambassador to Turkey, said today upon his arrival by airplane from Berlin that "I don't think war will break out in the near future."

Papen, who helped prepare the way for Germany's absorption of Austria, came here on an urgent mission aimed at winning Turkey away from the Anglo-French "peace front" and give the totalitarian control of the Dardanelles and entrance to the Black sea in the event of war.

"Wool paper," a paper medical gauze, has been perfected in Japan to replace cotton gauze.

to involve a breach in the legal status of Danzig.

Outwardly Poland remained calm. In Warsaw there was no more than an occasional truckload of Polish troops in full war equipment.

Japan Appears Isolated. As a result of the German-Russian nonaggression pact Japan appeared today to be returning to isolation in her foreign policy, at least for the present.

Foreign Minister Hachiro Arida told Japanese-language newspapers in Tokyo yesterday that the nation's revised policy must be based on "independence without counting upon any other powers."

In Moscow the British and French military missions, which had hoped to win Soviet Russia to their side in case of war with Germany, prepared last night to leave for home—the staff talks for which they came ended by the German-Russian nonaggression treaty.

France Prepares. Officials in Paris told all there whose presence was not "absolutely indispensable" to depart. The United States embassy advised Americans to leave France, and many were doing so.

Diplomatic circles reported communications with Poland had been disrupted since 5 p. m., yesterday (11 a. m. Atlanta time).

(The Associated Press in London however re-established communications with the Polish capital after several hours of interrupted service.)

Calling up of reservists proceeded rapidly in France. Vehicles of all sorts were commandeered. Emergency patrols guarded "danger areas" and a union government, embracing all save perhaps the Communists, was projected.

LEGISLATORS FAIL TO AGREE ON ANY PLAN FOR SESSION

Rivers' Poll of Feeling So Far Finds That State Lawmakers Differ Widely on Program.

By The Associated Press.
First replies to Governor Rivers' newest legislative poll brought few signs yesterday of agreement on any program to meet Georgia's fiscal problems—an agreement which the executive says must exist before he will summon an extra session.

Letters and telegrams brought advice to confer with former Governor Talmadge, renewed attacks on the present administration and flat refusals to make any advance commitments—but little indication of any legislative single-mindedness.

The communications—made public by the writers—were in the main from legislators long in opposition to the Governor. The latter said he had received few replies as yet and was unwilling to accept the scattered expressions as proof the legislature was deadlocked and nothing could be accomplished by a session.

Declines to Forecast.
Representative Herschel Lovett, of Laurens, declined to forecast his stand on recommendations of the economy committee and other queries put by the Governor, and observed: "My vote . . . will be cast upon the floor of the general assembly and not in the Governor's office."

Lovett asked the Governor to outline a definite remedial plan. "Having assumed dictatorial powers as Governor of Georgia, and being responsible for the present financial condition of the state," he said, "it occurs to me that before you demand any commitment from members of the general assembly upon the issues referred to in your letter, that you, as the Governor of Georgia, should offer some definite program to afford the greatly needed relief to which you refer."

Advice to Governor Rivers to seek help from Talmadge in getting Georgia "out of the mess it is in" came from Representative Randall Evans, of McDuffie, former Talmadge lieutenant and recent unsuccessful candidate for speaker of the house.

Representative John M. Forrester, of Crisp, also a Talmadge admirer, advocated enactment of a 20 per cent luxury tax to pay Georgia school teachers.

Meanwhile Governor Rivers said he found a trend of opinion toward diversion of highway funds to meet the state's immediate fiscal obligations.

Outright opposition to a session was expressed by Representative Evans, who warned: "No matter what is said now, there will be an effort to impose additional taxes if we meet in extra session." He added he would decline to vote for any new taxes.

N. Y. BURIES 8,000 UNKNOWN IN YEAR

FBI Chief Here Claims Fingerprinting Would Eliminate This Necessity.

Eight thousand unidentified persons are buried in potter's field in New York each year, Wayne Listerman, agent in charge of the Atlanta field office of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, told members of the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce at their luncheon yesterday.

"If those persons had been fingerprinted," Listerman said, "identification could have been established in a few hours."

Explaining the value of fingerprinting for citizens, Listerman pointed out it was the one most infallible method of identification. Mathematicians have estimated that the chances of any two sets of fingerprints being alike are one in one followed by 36 zeros.

The Junior Chamber is now in the midst of a drive to persuade as many Atlantans as possible to have themselves fingerprinted for their own protection.

BARNESVILLE ROAD DELAY PROTESTED

Miller Tells Delegation That Right-of-Way Must Be Obtained.

Failure to obtain necessary right of way has caused a delay in reconditioning Route 41 between Atlanta and Barnesville, Chairman W. L. Miller, of the State Highway Board, told a delegation from Clayton, Spalding and Lamar counties yesterday.

The delegation presented its request for the new road to the highway board and Governor Rivers. Miller explained that the Federal Bureau of Public Roads until recently had sought to obtain a 100-foot right of way but had now agreed to a 60 to 80-foot strip. The chairman added that the county commissioners involved thus far had not been able to acquire the needed property.

Miller also told the delegation that the highway board was working out an arrangement with the WPA whereby some work would be done on the road, adding that he hoped this would get under way soon.

CLUE! FIND A YEGG WHO NEEDS A BATH

He Stole $25 Worth of Swim Tickets From Park Pool.

An ambitious burglar stole $25 worth of swimming tickets from the bath house at the Washington park swimming pool, R. T. Bennett, a watchman, reported to police yesterday.

The only hitch—from the burglar's standpoint—is that they were numbered, and all employees have been instructed to be on the lookout for them.

Park officials are much more concerned over another little item. The loot also included $25 in real cash money.

WOMEN DEMOCRATS PLAN BRIDGE PARTY

Event Set for September 16 on Day to Climax 'Donkey Drive.'

Women's division of Fulton County Democrats will observe Democratic Women's Day with a bridge party Saturday night, September 16, at 8 o'clock in the Dixie ballroom of the Henry Grady hotel.

Mrs. Max E. Land, chairman, said the party would culminate the donkey drive launched by the group in July. It will be held simultaneously with similar celebrations all over the United States.

A national broadcast from Washington will be included on the day's program and will be carried to the various celebrations. President Roosevelt probably will open the broadcast, it was said. Mrs. Roosevelt and representatives from the west, middle west, east and south also have been invited to speak on the program. Final plans for the Atlanta event will be announced later.

CHURCH LOYALTY PLANS TO BE MADE

Meeting Scheduled Here Monday to Prepare for Drive.

Plans incident to the "Church Loyalty Program" in Atlanta from October 1 to December 17, will be discussed at a meeting of the Christian Council of Atlanta at 12:15 o'clock Monday at Rich's tearoom.

Dr. C. R. Stauffer, president of the council, which is sponsoring the plan, announced yesterday the 12-week program is designed to increase attendance in churches. It will be centered around a series of 24 sermons to be preached simultaneously in all Protestant churches in the city, each minister preaching on the same subject morning and night.

Ministers will prepare congregations for the loyalty program during the week of September 10-17, appointing committees to supervise attendance and to plan for the opening day of the observance, which will be known as "Visitation Day."

SOUTHEAST FAVORS 3D TERM FOR F.D.R.

Other Groups for Move Are Farm, Labor, Unemployed, Negroes, Miscellaneous.

SPECIAL TO THE CONSTITUTION.
NEW YORK, Aug. 24.—The only groups in the country showing definite majorities in favor of four more years of Roosevelt are the unemployed, negroes, miscellaneous and farm labor, and the southeast, the Fortune Survey reveals.

All told, 34.9 per cent of the American people at this time would choose Roosevelt in 1940, 53.3 per cent would prefer someone else, while 11.8 per cent are doubtful.

The Fortune Survey points out, however, that as against the 34.9 per cent who want Roosevelt, only 5.1 per cent come out now for Dewey, 4.3 per cent for Garner, 3.3 per cent for Vandenberg, and 6.6 per cent for all other possible candidates combined. Almost two-thirds of those who are not for Roosevelt are not for anyone else in 1940 at this time.

The President need not travel far to discover that, whatever his chances, there is no popular mandate for his continuance in office.

	Some- voted	Don't know
Southeast	52.1%	38.4%
Southwest	48.1%	40.6%

Seventeen French men and women, from young to old, received medals for life-saving at a recent ceremony at the Sorbonne in Paris.

CARPENTER CHOSEN BY SALVATION ARMY

Canada Commander Is New General to Succeed Evangeline Booth.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—(UP)—The high council of the Salvation Army elected George L. Carpenter, territorial commander of Canada, as its general Thursday, succeeding Evangeline Booth.

Commissioner Carpenter, now 67, came into the Salvation Army from Raymond Terrace, Australia, in 1892. He served for a time in Melbourne as a social officer, a training college officer, a member of the property department, and editor.

Afterwards, for 16 years, he was engaged at international headquarters in London, first in an editorial capacity and then as secretary for literary affairs to the general.

A return to editorial work in Australia for a brief period led to his appointment as chief secretary for the eastern territory, and to his elevation to a commission-ership and the command of South America.

He was then appointed territorial commander of the Salvation Army work in Canada, which position he now holds.

Mrs. Commissioner Carpenter, before her marriage in 1899, was a successful field officer and a gifted member of the editorial department in Australia. She worked in lonely stations among the Australian Alps, making perilous journeys on horseback in the course of visitation. As a writer Mrs. Carpenter has won world-wide repute.

Women Sob Farewells as Youths Are Rushed to Frontiers by France

Paris Takes on War-Time Tempo, Stations Crowded With Troops Heading East and Families Fleeing West; Tears Are Shed Quietly, Calmly.

By TAYLOR HENRY.
PARIS, Aug. 24.—(AP)—Weeping mothers, wives and sweethearts sent hundreds of thousands of France's crack young soldiers into service today—possibly to war.

Many of the reservists called up for the grave emergency bit their lips to keep back tears. With their families they jammed into the east and north stations where trains were pulling out every 10 minutes for the German frontier areas.

Tears Shed Calmly.
By mid-afternoon the concourse of the east station was a mass of reservists and their loved ones. Over them rose and fell a vast murmur of farewells, punctuated by shrilly barked commands. Then another company of citizen soldiers would fall in line and march off to the train.

It was a more picture. The only color was the horizon blue of them were filled with women and children.

Lines were formed at some filling stations by women with fruit jars and oil cans, laying in a supply of gasoline. Paris was taking on wartime tempo.

Youngsters Gather Daily at Tracks To Enjoy Thrill of Meeting Trains

By Sally Forth.

IN THE bend of the railroad track behind the Peachtree road residence of the John K. Ottleys, a human interest story is being enacted every evening. Just before the Southern railway train chugs up the track headed north from Brookwood station at 7:38 o'clock, a group of excited children collect on the side of the road to watch the green-painted engine begin its haul to Washington, D. C.

Sixteen-month-old Dany Buice is always in the arms of his grandfather, Ernest Dallis, and his parents, Epie and Harry Buice, stand near by. Lena and Tom Cassels accompany Elizabeth, their two-year-old daughter, to the scene of action, as do Jean and Dan Clarke, who have Dan Jr. under their chaperonage.

Walda and Sims Stearns, children of the Clifford Stearns; Bunkie Wiggins, daughter of the James Wiggins; Richard Guthman, red-haired son of Katherine, and Dick Guthman; David and Peggy, children of the David Millers, let nothing interfere with experiencing this train thrill.

Just as soon as the engine roars into sight around the bend of the road, the thoughtful engineer turns on the brilliant searchlight to let the children know he expects them to be stationed beside the tracks. He waves a friendly greeting from his window seat and the children wave their hands to him as his engine races by on the steel tracks leading to the national capital.

SOMETHING new in the way of entertaining was the tour party given by the Atlanta Pilot Club on Tuesday at Lakemore. Mrs. Lucy Brown, member of the club's program committee, was in charge of the affair, which featured a Hawaiian motif, although the guests gave their impressions of various countries and places visited during the current vacation season.

The New York World's Fair was given an accurate description by Mrs. Readie P. Ashurst, while Carey Singleton described the Old World atmosphere of Cuba, California, the Canadian Rockies and blue waters of the Pacific were described by Mrs. Lucie Brantley. The San Francisco Exposition was described by Mrs. Annie Lou Brigman. Vincent Sumrell's account of a tour of Hawaii, from where he recently returned, was climaxed by Hawaiian dance and song numbers presented by Billie Smith and Charlotte Harwell.

Sharing credit for the success of the unusual program in addition to Mrs. Brown, are Verona Longino, Mrs. Ena Wrenn, Mrs. Elizabeth Moultrie and other members of the entertainment committee.

ALTHOUGH Christmas is four months off, Santa Claus has already started his work. In this incident, the jolly old man is Judge E. L. Richardson, of Lakemore, Okla., uncle of Wilda Richardson, of the Atlanta Woman's Chamber of Commerce. Wilda, you know, is one of the directors of plans being made for the tea to be given tomorrow at the Governor's Mansion with Mrs. Rivers as hostess. The affair will aid the doll project of the Woman's Chamber of Commerce and the Salvation Army, which makes thousands of children happy at Christmas.

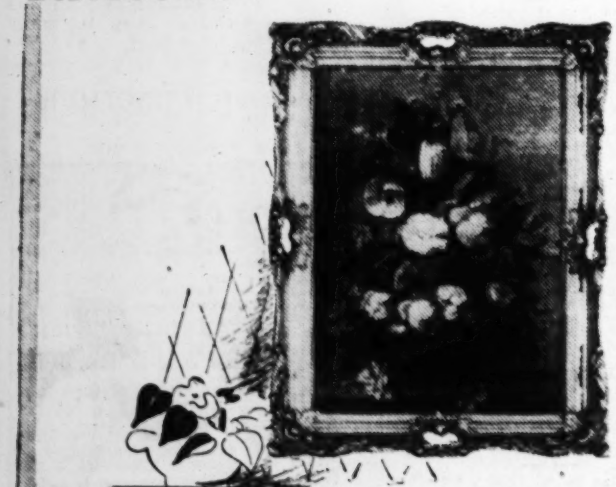

When plans were being completed for the benefit affair, Wilda sent her uncle in Oklahoma an announcement. Taking cognizance of the event, Judge Richardson sent a doll post haste to his niece as the first contribution to the forthcoming Christmas season. The doll is dressed as an Indian of the Oklahoma section and Sally suspects that it will receive many requests as a gift from Santa Claus.

CLUES TO OFFER "KLAN" "UP" KLAN

Californian Claims Visit to Atlanta Asking Membership List for $75,000.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The Dies committee heard testimony today that a California woman had tried to buy up the Ku-Klux Klan for $75,000.

Henry Allen, of Los Angeles, who identifies himself as a battler against "Jewish Communism," testified that Mrs. Leslie Fry, of Glendale, Cal., sent him to Atlanta in 1938 to talk things over with Hiram W. Evans, then the Klan's imperial wizard.

"She seemed to have the idea that Mr. Evans would sell out for a price. She wanted the membership list."

Allen said, however, that Evans was disinterested.

EVANS CLAIMS NO OFFER MADE TO "PURCHASE"

Dr. Hiram W. Evans, former imperial wizard of the Ku-Klux Klan, said yesterday he had been approached in 1939 by a man identifying himself as Henry D. Allen but no effort was made by the latter to buy Klan membership lists.

"He (Allen) said he wanted to help me build the Klan into a big thing," Evans said. "I told him if he was as influential as he said he was, the place where he could do most good was in his home town. I told him he had better just go home and stay there. That was the last I ever saw of him."

"There was no question of buying the list of Klan members then or at any other time."

August Sales in Europe?

GOOD MORNING
By LOUIE D. NEWTON.

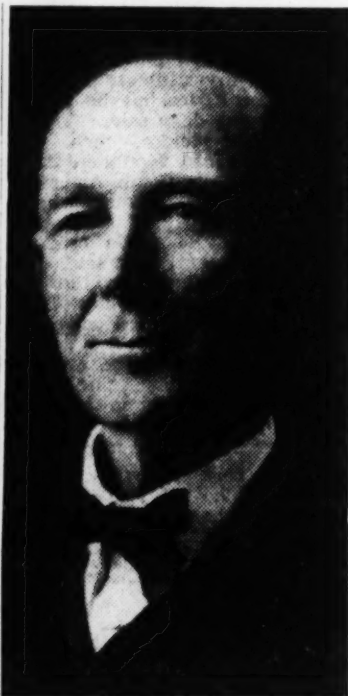

REV. FRANK LOYD.

I was glad that I could keep my promise, made several years ago, to be at the funeral of Rev. Frank Loyd—Uncle Frank, as he allowed me, along with many others, to call him. He died last Tuesday morning at 1:30 o'clock, and was buried Wednesday at noon from the McConnell Memorial Baptist church in Hiwassee. I went to see him just two weeks ago, to which visit I made reference in this column. As I left his bedside that day, he said: "I am going Home."

Uncle Frank was 82 years old. He was born in the Hiwassee Valley, where he lived all his life, serving as the beloved shepherd of souls in that lovely valley that adorns the picturesque Blue Ridge mountains. From his front porch one could look across the valley to towering Echota—the highest mountain in Georgia. The Hiwassee river flows past his little farm. The highway runs past his front gate. Mr. and Mrs. Loyd were married 55 years ago. He had been an ordained minister of the Lord Jesus Christ 53 years. Three children, two daughters and a son, and several grandchildren composed the happy family.

He was a contemporary of the late Dr. F. C. McConnell—the same age—the same sort of a man. He was a life-long and intimate friend of Dr. George W. Truett, Dr. A. B. Greene, Dr. A. J. Ritchie and many other notable men who came out of that historic valley. Many of the valley's sons went forth as illustrious leaders in varied fields of human endeavor. Uncle Frank remained in the valley, loving and serving the people of the hills.

I wish you might have witnessed that funeral occasion. The people were there in wagons, on horseback, on foot and in automobiles. All activity ceased in the valley last Wednesday, save the purling flow of the river, the gentle wind in the night trees on the mountains, the songs of the birds, and the shining of the sun. The people were there at the beautiful meeting house—the last and crowning achievement of Uncle Frank—dedicated on the second Sunday in August. Men and women, boys and girls, all alike there, and all moved by one consuming thought of grateful remembrance. There were flowers in abundance some of them from the city floral shops—most of them gathered by loving hands from yards and meadows.

They sang softly. They walked softly. They spoke softly one to another. Even the little babies in their mothers' arms seemed consciously aware of something very fine and sacred. It was not an hour of mourning—rather of reverent rejoicing. The tired body of the grand old saint of God was stilled in the last sleep beneath the flowers—his spirit was marching on. "It seems to me that he is more alive today than ever," said an old, old resident of the valley as we stood and talked there in the front yard of the home before we went to the meeting house. "Frank Loyd dead? No, such men never die," another life-long friend remarked.

And as Dr. Greene read the Scripture lesson, passage after passage of triumphant assurance from God's word, the people sat enthralled with the fulfillment of these living words in the life of the departed friend. It was announced that Uncle Frank had requested that they sing at his funeral that grand old hymn:

"O come, angel band,
Come, and around me stand,
O bear me away on your snowy wings,
To my eternal Home."

I recall what Uncle Frank said to me one day as we stood at twilight on his front steps and talked for a moment of the turmoil of the world. "Yes," he said, "the world is upset by all this greed and covetousness, but remember, my boy, this is our Father's world. Go with these words of Isaac Watts:

"O God, our help in ages past,
Our hope in years to come,
Our shelter from the stormy blast,
And our eternal Home."

I came away from the valley with unshakable assurance. So long as men live as Uncle Frank lived, the forces of evil must retreat in the face of the coming Kingdom of God. It may seem to delay, but truth rises victorious, for Christ standeth in the shadows, keeping watch above His own.

Pebbles Take Cracker From Crackers, 7 to 6, in Ten Innings

All in the Game

-by Jack Troy

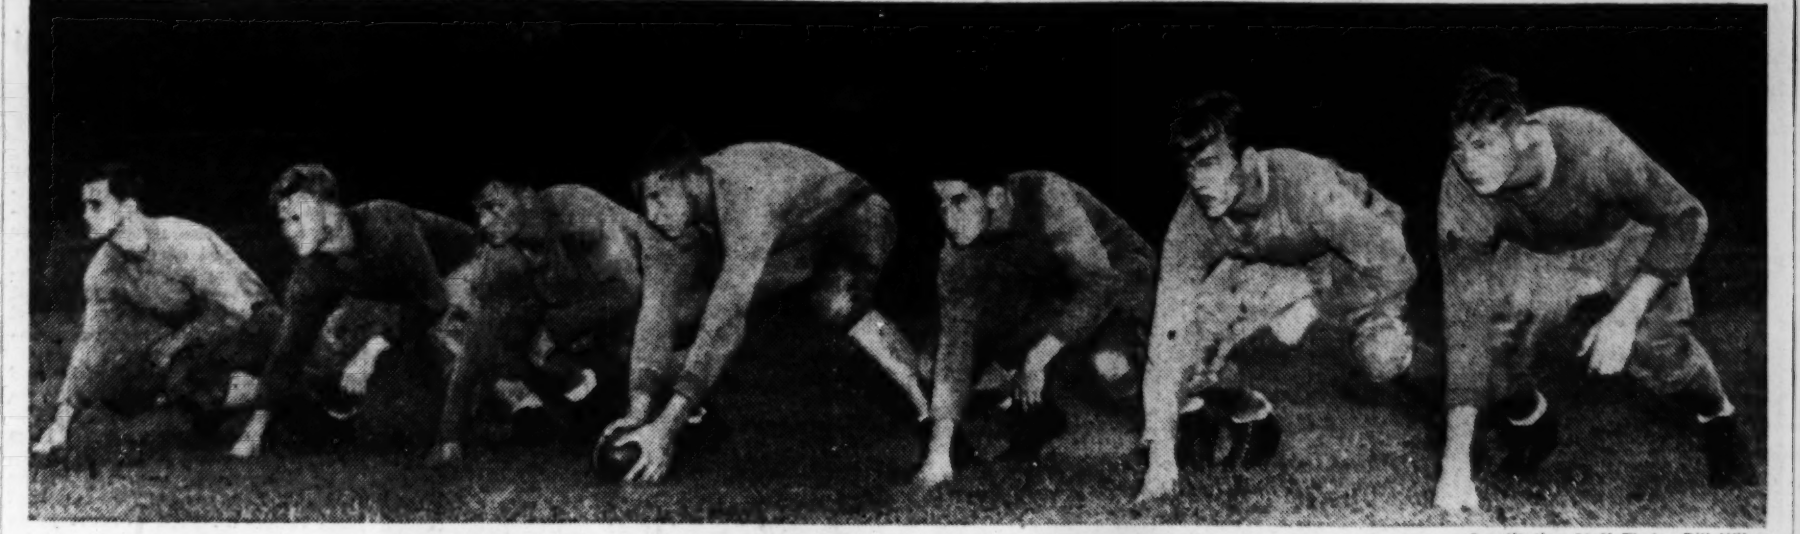

If the letter had contained news of the demise of a charitably inclined rich uncle, it could not have been more startling. The envelope was stamped in purple ink—"Travel in Gay Germany." The letter was mailed August 22 from New York. The enclosed article which duly noted that it had been "printed in Germany" was headed "The Development of German Sport," by von Tschammer und Osten, Reich sport leader. And of all the smooth soap ever lathered in ink on a printed page, this letter must rank with the highest.

Von Tschammer und Osten, Reich sport leader, says: "During recent years Germany has come to the fore as a sport-minded nation. The extent of our reputation is shown by the number of visitors and inquiries we receive from abroad who wish to know the secret of our sports organization. The secret is not hard to find in the Germany of Adolf Hitler, for sports and physical training are determined in idea and form by the ideology of National Socialism. This ideology has as one of its main aims the imbuing of the German people, both as a whole and as individuals, to the highest display of its character in intellectual, spiritual and physical relations. This ideology must, of needs, be carried on through educational channels, and so it is a characteristic manifestation of National Socialism that schooling and education are given such significance. The essentially youthful and wholesome spirit of this ideology is shown by the fact that it places fundamental importance on the physical, and that a conscious encouragement of physical training is one of the basic requirements of this ideology. By this statement we mean no sterile materialism or non-intellectual culture, but quite the reverse. We are basing our education on the old classic ideal of striving for the harmonious person, animated by the trilogy of body, mind and spirit. The Fuehrer has declared on more than one occasion that he would like to see the German people develop a high measure of physical stamina, health and vitality along with, and side by side with, spiritual and intellectual qualifications. And in fact, the Germans must strive for this ideal of physical hardihood on grounds of self-preservation, if for no other reason."

Von Tschammer und Osten, Reich sport leader, writes on about the Olympic games of 1936 and the love and enthusiasm for sports of the nation, an concludes: "We feel that in the Olympic games and in the other sporting meetings of youth carried on in the Olympic

Harris Shelled in 5th As Pebs Get Five Runs to Tie Score, Win in 10th.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 24.—Playing like the champion Travelers of 1937, the 1939 Peb edition came through with a great uphill fight in nailing out the Atlanta Crackers, 7 to 6, in a ten-inning thriller here tonight.

Leroy Schalk opened the tenth with a single to left. Snyder was robbed of a possible triple by the fastest outfielder in baseball, John Rucker, but it wasn't enough. Tommy Irwin drilled a double to left, scoring Schalk with the winning tally.

Larry Miller was on the hill as the triumphant Traveler tally trotted home. Larry was the third of three Cracker twirlers. Luman Harris started and was kayoed in the fifth. Bobby Durham replaced, going out for a pinch-hitter in the eighth.

By JOHNNY BRADBERRY

Climax of the second annual Georgia Athletic Coaches' clinic will come tonight when Jack Meagher's favored Northern prep all-stars battle Bobby Dodd's Southern eleven on Grant Field at 8:30 o'clock.

Eight thousand people are expected to watch the preview of the rapidly approaching football season and, at the same time, see future stars of southern gridirons display the wares that got themselves free educations.

Grant Beats Mulloy In Five Hard Sets

Bitsy Enters Semi-Finals; Bobbitt-Guernsey Win in Doubles Play.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 24.—(P)—Unseeded Dave Freeman, of Pasadena, Cal., gained the semi-final round of the Newport Casino tennis tournament today by outdriving Hal Surface, of Kansas City, for a 6-2, 7-5, 6-0 victory.

Freeman had remarkable control over his long-range shots during the first and third sets and his comparatively few errors in the second enabled Surface to prolong the set through 12 games.

Kirby Rollies To Beat Traung and Gain Women's Semi-Finals

DOROTHY TWO DOWN AT TURN BUT WINS, 1 UP

Atlantan Plays Charlotte Glutting Today; Hicks, Jameson Win.

By DOROTHY KIRBY.
WEE BURN COUNTRY CLUB, DARIEN, Conn., Aug. 24.—I am one happy person at this writing, for things worked out better than I expected. Miss Traung and I had some battle of it. In fact, we went the route of 18 holes before one of us could turn the tables.

I didn't go so well on the front nine, but finally the old faithful putter came to the rescue, starting on the 11th and continued on the 12th, where I got in two very long putts that certainly saved the day for me.

Traung was just getting on the greens in regulation figures and there I was simply watching, until the turn came on the back side. At that, however, I nearly let the match get away from me for coming to the 17th she missed her drive and second shot and after I had hit a good drive I used too much club for the second and went on the back edge of the green and took three putts and Traung getting on in three shots took two putts and the hole was halved.

That made us go to the 18th with me having a one-up advantage, and believe me, I was a little on the scared side. We were both on the green in three and I putted for a sure five and this left Traung with a six-foot putt for a win, and to keep the match alive, but as luck, or something will have it, she was short and that was the match.

Here are our cards:
Their cards:

Par, out 544 555 544-37
Miss Traung, out 545 555 544-38
Miss Kirby, out 544 555 544-40

Par, in 544 543 445-38-75
Miss Kirby 533 555 555-39-79
Miss Traung in 544 555 544-41

I thought sure I was a "goner" going to the 10th with Traung having a two-up lead.

In the semi-finals I met the Curtis cup player, Charlotte Glutting. She won on the 19th from Laddie Irwin, after a hard-fought match.

BEATS VETERAN.
In the other rounds little Elizabeth Hicks came through again to win from a veteran like Laurence Orcutt, by 3 and 1. There was another 18-hole affair between Marion Miley and Betty Jameson.

Betty was one up coming to the 18th, where they were both on in three blows and Miley putted first and just missed for her four. Then Betty got up to try and absolutely froze on the putt and had to walk away and then when she did hit it, she was quite a few feet past the hole, but with the next putt she finished the match.

So this is the way the semi-finals look Glutting and I, Hicks and Jameson.

I keep pinching myself to see if it is the real thing—and people tell me it is, so I guess it's me tomorrow against Glutting.

HAGEN, SARAZEN STAY IN RUNNING

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—(AP)—The years exacted a toll of six strokes from Walter Hagen's golf game today—but another veteran of the fairway was, stocky Gene Sarazen, came through gallantly to take up the slack.

Hagen and Sarazen formed one of the eight all-star teams which opened first-round play today in the best-ball, round-robin tournament commemorating Hagen's first national open victory scored 25 years ago at Midlothian Country Club.

It was on the same course that Hagen and Sarazen matched shots with golf's younger stars today, and it was Sarazen who produced the more brilliant individual performance.

"The Hag" needed 74 strokes for his round in contrast to the 68 he fired in that first round in 1914. Sarazen came home with a great 67, four under par, the best medal for the select field of 16 experts.

It was Sarazen's fine play which kept him and Hagen all even with Horton Smith and Byron Nelson in the opening skirmish of a four-day tournament in which the team taking the most holes will be named first-place winner.

Two of golf's younger stars—Dick Metz, of Chicago, and Byron Nelson, the national open champion from Reading, Pa.—took honors for "plus holes" won.

Tomorrow morning's matches with standings after day's play: Picard and Revolta (—1) vs. Hagen and Sarazen (even).

Guldahl and McSpaden (—1) vs. Dudley and Burke (plus 1).

Ryan and Smith (even) vs. Shute and Harrison (—2).

Nelson and Metz (plus 2) vs. Armour and Thomson (plus one).

CARDINALS UNHAPPY AS MIZE IS HURT AND TEAM BOGS DOWN

Their cheeks bulged out with cuds of tobacco, this group of Cardinals looks anything but happy as the St. Louis team took another shellacking last night—this time from the Phils. Left to right, they are Pepper Martin, Arnold Owen and Lon Warneke. The fact that Johnny Mize, two-thirds of their offense, was on the sidelines with an injury, didn't exactly cheer the boys, either. After a sensational spurt that threatened to overtake the leading Reds, the St. Louis gang seems to have shot their bolt. No team could have been expected to continue the pace.

FOUR ATLANTANS IN ALBANY PLAY

Bicknell, Gaillard, Crowe, Bowen Advance; Sonny Swift Also Wins.

RADIUM SPRINGS, ALBANY, Ga., Aug. 24.—The Atlanta delegation has four left to battle for the title in the thirteenth annual Radium Springs golf tournament. They are Harold Crowe, the Druid Hills youngster; Bud Bicknell, of Capital City, who stayed in the championship flight by defeating Charles Davis, of Albany, 2-1, in the first round of match play; Gene Gaillard, of Druid Hills, who conquered a fellow Atlanta, Bud Bicknell, in the second round; and Sonny Swift, of Columbus, who was the medalist Wednesday with 69, tying the course record set last year by Tommy Barnes, of Atlanta, remained in the running for the championship by beating a tough customer, Bill Twitty, Pelham, 3-1.

But the runner-up for medal honors, chubbly Billy Goodloe Jr., of Valdosta, took the rap from Dick Tift, of Albany, who fought his heart out and beat the shaggy-shooting youngster with a great show of gameness on the 19th hole.

Johnny Oliver, former Radium champion from Valdosta, and Arnold Blum from Macon, remained among the favorites to win the tournament and the Barron Collier trophy. Blum defeated Joe Taylor Jr., the intercollegiate champion from Tampa, who is a pre-med at Duke, by two holes in a tough match.

Davis, Beavers Spark Yank '5' to 33-28 Win

Russell High Star Paces Attack; Canton Guard Plays Great Defensive Game.

By JOHNNY BRADBERRY.
Phog Allen's northern prep all-stars displayed a tighter defense and more accurate offense last night to defeat Roy Mundorff's fighting southern five, 33 to 28, in a basketball game featuring the Georgia Coaching Clinic.

Led by the sharpshooting of Jack Davis, Russell High star, who shot 14 points, and the great defensive play of Gene Beavers, of Canton, the red-shirted Yankees grabbed an early lead and were never headed. Shots by Davis and Beavers sent their team off to 10 to lead, while the Rebels were held scoreless until Bill McCowen, of Lanier, sank a long goal after nine minutes of the first half.

TIGHT DEFENSE.
The Northern five displayed a tight defense built around the husky Beavers which soon convinced the Southerners they had to crack down from long range.

However, the Blues missed shot after shot while Allen's team showed more accuracy in this department.

Trailing 10-21 at half time, Mundorff's lads came back gamely and out fought the North in the second half but the margin was too great and the game ended with the Yankees effectively freezing the ball.

Besides Davis and Beavers, individual stars for the North were Captain Luther Archer, of Decatur, who played a great floor game, and Billy Coile, of Winterville, who was a whiz under the basket.

BERGMAN, GRIFFITH.
For the losers, John Bergman, of Savannah, and W. J. Griffith, of Eatonton, were outstanding. Bergman shot seven points, and Griffith nine in the last half in single-handedly spark the big rally. Griffith's 12 points topped Southern scorers.

Captain Paul Wilson, of Jordan, and Bill McCowen, of Lanier, played good floor games.

Between the halves, medals were presented members of the all-star basketball and football teams.

Coaches Jack Meagher and Bobby Dodd presented their respective grid teams with the gold medals, while the halves and Mundorff performed the operation on the basketball squads.

If last night's game was any indication of tonight's football battle, things should be red hot. The unusually large crowd was immensely pleased. Many came to Atlanta to see their home town favorites play.

At 9:30 the Atlanta Boys' Club will play the Egan Scrubs. The second game, at 11:30, will see the North Side Aces tied up with the Riverside Hornets. At the Adair Tigers will play the West End Cardinals. LASALLE TRAINS FOR BURROUGHS

Southern Welter Title To Be at Stake Here Wednesday Night.

Out at Groover's Lake, training camp of Ben Brown and other pugilists, KENNY LA SALLE, a Californian who ranks fourth among the welterweights of the world, is bearing down for his scheduled 10-round fight with Battling Burroughs, southern champion, at the ball park next Wednesday night.

LaSalle, who is contemplating changing his residence to Atlanta, will be making his debut here, but already local fight fans have heard plenty of his prowess and many of them have seen him display great skill at the camp.

The LaSalle-Burroughs fight is a natural. Both are strictly offensive fighters and their battle should produce some of the wildest action seen here in years. Burroughs proved when he spotted Ben Brown 10 pounds and went the route with him both times that he definitely was a fighter of the top rank. Against a man in his own division, the Mississippi kid should be even more effective.

Good preliminaries are being arranged.

Yugoslavian Ace Upsets Jack Bromwich

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 24.—(AP)—In the most surprising Davis cup upset of the season, Ferenc Patai, hard-driving Yugoslavian star, defeated Jack Bromwich, of Australia, 6-2, 8-6, 6-6, 6-2, today in the first day of the final interzone Davis cup play.

Putting on one of the most brilliant tennis displays seen at the Longwood Cricket Club this year, the sturdy Yugoslav outdrive, out-generated and outlasted the 20-year-old Bromwich, who ranks as one of the world's best.

After clearly tossing the third set, in which he won only seven points, Patai came back from the intermission to sweep the final chapter and keep his country in the running for the right to challenge the United States Davis cuppers.

In the day's first match Adrian Quist, of Australia, all but whitewashed Drago Mitic, of Yugoslavia, winning 6-0, 6-4, 6-3.

The outcome of this final interzone play for the right to challenge the United States Davis cup holders may rest upon Tom Morris's doubles, when Mitty and Franjo Kukuljeric play Quist and Bromwich, the newly crowned American titlholders.

Team Has Defeatist Attitude, Says Pate
HAVERFORD, Pa., Aug. 24.—(AP)—America's Davis cup team must fight a "defeatist attitude" as well as Australia or Yugoslavia in the challenge round September 2-4, nonplaying Captain Walter L. Pate declared today after watching the squad practice.

"It is enough to have to contend with the challenge round opponents much less this prevalent defeatist attitude," Pate said.

The captain left for New York to attend a meeting of the Davis cup committee tonight. The United States team for the challenge round may be selected at tonight's meeting, but will not be announced until Sunday.

Sally Shaughnessy Will Start Sept. 5

AUGUSTA, Ga., Aug. 24.—(AP)—The Shaughnessy play-off for the Sally league championship will start on September 5, Dr. E. M. Wilder, league president, announced here tonight.

Dr. Wilder said the league-leading team will play the third place club on the home grounds of the first team, while the second place team engages the fourth spot club on the grounds of the runners-up.

Seven games will be played in each series.

The winner of the play-off will engage the winner of the South-eastern league Shaughnessy in the "Little Dixie" series.

RALLIES TO WIN.
HOT SPRINGS, Ark., Aug. 24.—(AP)—Bob Sikes, Pine Bluff heavy-weight, was forced to put on a driving finish here last night to gain a decision in 10 rounds over his heavier adversary, Sandy McDonald, Denison, Texas.

Charlie Yates Heads List in Sectional Qualifying Here Tuesday.

By ROY WHITE.
Fourteen Atlantas, including Charlie Yates, former British amateur champion, Dan Yates, Georgia's amateur champion, and Alan Yates, youngest of the Yates trio, will seek four places in the national amateur golf tournament next Tuesday in the No. 1 East Lake course in the annual sectional qualifying rounds.

Four others from Florida and Tennessee have been entered in this district, giving Atlanta 18 entries for the four places. It is the largest group of players in recent years to be admitted to the national amateur from this district and equals a record of some years ago.

Tuesday's play will be 36 holes, medal competition, with the morning round starting at 9:30 o'clock. The afternoon round will start at 1:30 o'clock, and the same order of starting will follow in the afternoon. The players will move off from the starting tee at five-minute intervals.

CONWAY IN CHARGE.
Keith Conway, veteran representative of the United States Golf Association, will again be in charge of the sectional qualifying round and will award a medal to the low scorer for this district, as he has in the past.

The 43d national amateur will be played at the North Shore Country Club, in Glenview, Ill., September 11-16.

Crawford Rainwater, former Atlantaan, from Pensacola, and Morton Bright, from Ponte Vedra, are Florida's representatives in Tuesday's 36-hole medal test. Lew Oehmig and John Grant are the other out-of-state entries. They both are from Chattanooga, Tenn.

ARNES ENTERS.
Tommy Barnes, former Atlanta open and amateur champion and former intercollegiate champion; Frank Mulhern Jr., a former champion from Augusta; Bill Healey, Capital City's invitation winner last year, and Charlie Danals Jr., Atlanta's open and amateur champion, are other outstanding entries.

Dewey Bowen, Bud Bicknell, W. D. Tumlin, Steve Gill, Ralph McClelland Jr., J. H. Irwin and H. N. Roberts are others entered from Atlanta.

The pairings follow:

Passeau Takes 2th; Tigers Beat Leonard

Max Butcher Conquers Giants on 6 Hits; Cubs Win, 6 to 1.

By The Associated Press.
Claude Passeau won his 12th game of the season yesterday as the Chicago Cubs defeated the Boston Bees 6 to 1, although they made but seven hits off Boston's Lefty Joe Sullivan.

Two Boston errors were a major factor in the 11th victory for the Cubs in their last 15 contests. The Bees made 11 hits but couldn't make them count.

Chicago scored twice after two were out in the first inning. With the bases filled, walks to Augie Galan and Bill Nicholson and a fielder's choice on Hank Leiber, Glenn Russell singled to left center sending two home.

The Cubs made another in the sixth after an error by Henry Masi allowed Herman to reach first. Galan doubled him to third and Reynolds, who replaced Nicholson in right field, hit to Warstler, who threw to first as Herman raced home.

Fletcher's four-bagger came in the second. Pep Young's single in the fourth drove in one run and Johnny Rizzo's long sacrifice fly in the fifth, after Fern Bell singled and Paul Waner doubled, sent the winning tally across. Manuel Salvo lasted five innings and was charged with the loss.

Butcher had only one bad inning, the eighth, when the Giants scored all their runs on three hits, and Young's error.

Behind Tot Pressnell's eight-hit pitching, the Dodgers trounced the league-leading Cincinnati Reds, 4 to 2, last night before a crowd of more than 34,000 fans. The Dodgers showed three runs across in the fifth and added their final tally on Al Todd's homer in the sixth.

Virgil "Spud" Davis' double in the sixth, clearing the bases, started a Phillies rally last night which gave them a 6-to-5 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

spirit, a bridge can be built between nations that may be crossed into the way of perpetual peace."

And so what happened, von Tschammer und Osten, Reich sport leader, in all this ideology of National Socialism, to cause the German nation bluntly to refuse an invitation to send its tennis team to the United States, as formerly?

What the youth of the land can only hope and pray against is an invitation to "Travel in Gay Germany" extended by the United States government. And there wouldn't be anything sporting connected with that invitation. Once before American youth served as cannon fodder for the gods of war.

THERE'S QUITE A DIFFERENCE.

Americans get along very well without ideologies and strive, with great success, to develop athletes to the highest peak of their proficiency for the sake of sport.

The American scheme is not a double-barreled proposition which develops athletes so they will be better fitted physically to carry guns and recover from battle wounds.

Left alone, the American people as a whole become alarmed over such important matters as involves their favorite baseball teams in the pennant races, their favorite football teams in the fall grind, and events of a similar nature.

In the light of all that has happened, since before 1914 until the present day, it seems utterly ridiculous for any Reich sport leader to be disseminating hokey, such as "the nations of the world now are imbued with sending their youth to these peaceful competitions (meaning Olympic games). We feel ourselves to be the good comrades of all great sporting nations, but, perhaps, most of all with the land that has given the world this great promoter of sports." That last means the United States.

Ferdinand's Corner: Nashville fans can't understand why Al Rubeling isn't leading the Southern league in hitting. . . The Rub collected 13 hits in 17 official appearances at the plate in Sulphur Dell this season. . . Manager Paul Richards whanged the ball at a merry pace, too. . . He had a total of 14 hits in 26 times up. . . They're saying that the Big Ten may discontinue scheduling Southeastern conference teams because of the difference in eligibility rules. . . Honest mistake dept.: A wire service, reporting recent trade by the Chicago Bears, said: "Both players are beginning their second year in the pro game. . . Zarnas played at Ohio State, Siegal at Columbia."

It may not be significant and again it may be. . . Anyway, Jack Doyle, who refused to take any bets on the Yankees for the first four months of the season, now quotes them at 2 to 5. . . And Boston Red Sox pilot, Joe Cronin, says if Boston can stay as close to the Yankees as they are today for another 10 days, the gill-edged Sox will have a fine chance to win the pennant. . . They have won 8 out of 12 with the Yanks this season and have 10 more to play in the last month of the season. . . Rudy York may become a fixture at first base for the Detroit Tigers. . . Yankees seek Hank Greenberg in a deal. . . And so does Washington. . . Clark Griffith would swap Cecil Travis and cash for Greenberg. . . If Atlanta fans think Tom McCarthy was criticized for giving an honest decision in the Brown-Yarosz fight, they ought to read what Henry McLemore said about Arthur Donovan for taking five rounds away from Henry Armstrong on fouts. . . Says Henry: "Arthur Donovan is the new lightweight champion of the world. . . He is a bit fat for the title, particularly in the head. . . But he won it for Lou Ambers by rendering a decision as questionable as a mongrel's paternity." . . . McLemore went on to say Donovan, whom he nicknamed the referee, should run, not walk, to the nearest optician. . . There was a lot of squawking the first time Armstrong and Ambers met, too. . . Attention, Georgia Tech: Texas is the only college to beat Notre Dame in an opening football game in years. . . The Texans won, 7 to 6, in 1934. . . The Notre Dame squad, Tech's official opening opponent at South Ben on October 7, numbers 93. . . Included are 23 Irishmen, nine Germans and seven Italians. . . What are the odds that the Georgia state tennis tournament will be finished before September?

Buford Eliminated By Silvertown, 6 to 0

Defending Champions Lacked Pep and Never Looked Like a Contender.

WICHITA, Kas., Aug. 24.—Buford Bona Allen's went out of the national tourney running last night in an amazing upset of dope as Silvertown (Ore.) Red Sox, youngest club in the tourney, won, 6 to 0.

The Red Sox knocked out Frank Melton, strikeout sensation of the tourney, in two innings. Hero for Silvertown was Lefty Helsel, who won his fourth game. Relieving B. White in the second, he hurled four-hit ball the rest of the way and drove in two tallies with a homer and a single. Buford lacked pep from the start and never looked like a contender.

Silvertown teed off in the first off Frank Melton, early tournament pitching sensation when Buford had a bad infolding lapse. Kirsch wanted to open the first for the Oregonians. Pesky bunted and Melton threw wide to first and Shipley to third on retrieving the ball, one run counted, and Schwab singled in another.

Hurney made a fine throw from right to V. Johnson off at the plate in the second and gave a run. Buford getting a walk and two singles drove out R. White and Helsel came in. Helsel retired the side and hit a homer in the second. This caused Melton's departure for Abe White.

Silvertown after threatening in every inning scored again in the sixth on Sylvester's triple and a single by Whitman. Erault also singled but a fast double play cut down this rally. Buford had a big chance in the seventh with two on by a hit and walk but Helsel fanned Kimbrell and White and Shipley fouled out.

CRIME TEARS ON

Much to Anita's Annoyance, Harley Is Completely Captivated by Yvette

By CAROLYN WELLS.

SYNOPSIS. At a cocktail party in Amy Crosby's home in Manhattan, Craig Madison introduces himself to Yvette Verne, a new movie star, after he overhears her quarrel with her brother, Billy Gomez, a man unknown to him. The actress soon comes down; and when Craig invites her to spend the week end at the estate of his Uncle Harley Madison, in New Plymouth, Long Island, she becomes interested. She tells Craig she has heard of his uncle, who is regarded as an eccentric philanthropist. Craig says what he needs most is sympathy, and that if she will be an understanding friend to the wealthy man it will help matters. Miss Verne thereupon accepts the invitation. Craig and his cousin, Tom Sheldon, both engineers, were brought up by their Uncle Harley, a widower, who lives with his sister, Cornelia, who helps him in his business; Hetty Garson, a spoiled housekeeper, and Ames, his secretary. Harley recently got the idea to rejuvenate the shabby town of New Plymouth, forming a syndicate for that purpose. The plan makes necessary a change in his will. He now intends to leave two-thirds of his wealth to the town and divide the remainder among his sister and nephews. Harley's plan to improve the town out of a common fund is opposed by those who would be glorified by their donations. He is kept from resigning because that would throw Craig, the architect working on building plans, out of business. Harley wants to know the reason for the actions of the traitors to this cause. NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

INSTALLMENT V.

She looked the part. The autumn brown tailored suit of soft wool twill she wore showed red lights here and there. A trifle of white at neck and sleeves and the smartest hat in the world were mere accessories to the charm of the little figure and vivid, sentient face.

Barry, Miss Verne's capable chauffeur, had had no difficulty in finding the negligible New Plymouth, and he brought the car to the imposing entrance of Silver Hill with a flourish.

"Pipe down, Barry," the girl said, quietly. "This is ladies' day for me. I don't want to drive up like an army with banners."

Barry assumed a correct stolidity, and Craig Madison came smiling to greet his visitor.

"I don't think I'll dare show you to Uncle Harley," he said as he helped her out. "He'll eat you up!"

"Let me look round a minute first." The girl marveled at the wide, spacious lawn, the gigantic shade trees and the massed flower gardens, gay with riotous autumn blooms. "It's heavenly," she said. "I'm so glad I came."

She turned toward the big Colonial house, with additions that marred but did not completely spoil its proportions.

"No," Craig disagreed, "the place isn't grand; it's just comfortable and homey, that's all."

They went inside, and Yvette realized he spoke truly.

The great entrance hall had many old pieces of Colonial furniture, its polished surfaces rubbing elbows with some new pieces the young people had brought in, but somehow remaining harmonious through it all.

Craig led her on to the living room, where Harley Madison was the first to greet her. He came toward her with outstretched hands.

"Miss Verne, you are very welcome," he said, a little formally, but with growing admiration. "I hope you will be glad you came. This is my sister Cornelia."

Miss Madison, tall and dignified, haughty and aristocratic, smiled far more cordially than she had meant to, for the girl's charm was irresistible. Cornelia was not a snob, quite, but she had resented this rash move of Craig's. To bring a movie actress into the hallowed halls of Silver Hill, where none but the elite had ever before been received, was a daring thing for even her favorite nephew to do.

Then Craig carried Yvette off for introductions, carefully putting Mrs. Lee before Mrs. Boyce, a slight for which Anita never forgave him.

Needless to say, Yvette made good. They all liked her. She was so natural, so spontaneous, so free from any trace of artificiality or any suggestion of the stage.

"I wondered," she said to Craig, "when I met you last Sunday, why you didn't live in New York. Now I know."

"You mean that as a place to live New Plymouth is preferable to New York?" This from Harley, who had managed to keep within speaking distance of the visitor ever since she came in.

"I'd have to think that over," she smiled at him. "But I can say right off, I can see how it would be to one who had his home here. You couldn't have a home like this in the city. Ooh, cocktails arrive! Let's sit right down here."

She chose a seat in the middle of a big divan, and somehow Harley Madison was on one side of her and Craig on the other.

Cornelia Madison looked at the group and then cast a humorous glance at Anita Boyce. But Anita didn't think it at all humorous, and being forced to put up with the attentions of either Tom Sheldon or Everette Ames, she was just about ready to go home.

Even Gifford Hale was hovering round the magnet, sitting on the arm of the davenport or on a hassock at the divinity's feet.

Yet, Yvette was saying nothing of especial interest. It was the way she said it, the merry little laugh you found yourself waiting for, the quick, appreciative glance at a happy speech, and the glorious smile that flashed out now and then, when she was silent, and seemed to tell of happiness and content.

Wilkins, the butler, and Rosie, the waitress, were completely bowled over, though nobody knew this. But their few words on the situation, as they went back and forth to the pantry, so roused Hetty that she marched in to see for herself.

Cornelia saw her come in, and took the situation in hand.

"This is our Hetty," she said, "our major domo, Miss Verne. If you want for anything while you are here, and I refuse to give it to you, just call on Hetty and you will get it."

Cornelia's smile gave Yvette her cue, and she held out a hand to Hetty, with a pretty word of appreciation, then turned back to Craig.

Hetty made for the kitchen, and found Mrs. Quinn, the cook.

"Land o' Goshen!" Hetty breathed, in a scared whisper. "She's got 'em all hypnotized! They're grovelin' at her feet, and she's quite at home, thank you, fingerin' of her cocktail glass."

"Forward piece!" said Mrs. Quinn.

Hetty gave her a look of mingled pity and scorn.

"A heap you do know, don't you? That young lady is as much quality as any Madison who ever breathed! A king would be proud to shake hands with her, and—"

Hetty paused with the intention of making Mrs. Quinn faint and fall to the floor—"and, she shook hands with me!"

"She never!"

"She did!"

"Well, I'll be blowed!"

And Miss Cornelia Madison was experiencing a similar apprehension that she would be blowed—though not in those words—as she quite understandingly watched her brother fall in love with Yvette Verne.

Mrs. Hetty Garson, housekeeper in ordinary Silver Hill, was the wife of Elkanah, a man of illimitable ability. He was a modified valet to Harley Madison, and looked after the boys a bit, and attended to civil wars among the servants, and was so trustworthy that he was called steward; and he was a good one.

He was Miss Cornelia's right-hand man, and was afraid of nobody on God's green earth, with the single exception of his wife, Hetty. Her opinion of him may be summed up in the phrase she used to describe him: "That worthless Elk! He's such a blessing!"

Elkanah was long and lank, with a wiry strength and a great power of endurance. His eyes were keen and shrewd, his understanding quick and his response even quicker. His homely face seemed to show a high grade of intelligence, but the trouble with Elk was he seldom fulfilled that promise. He was sure of his facts, sure of his memories, sound in his logic, but he had little intuition and no imagination.

However, Hetty had enough of these things; for both, and with her guidance the pair achieved wonders.

By Saturday noon, the day following Yvette's arrival, Hetty had sized up the visitor and was giving Elkanah the net result.

"She's fine," Hetty declared, "and she's deep. Mr. Craig is mad about her, and Mr. Madison is nigh off his head, too."

"Sho," Hetty. Not Mr. Harley Madison!

"That's what I said. But he ain't fell yet; he's hoverin' on the brink. It's up to her. If she wants him she can easy get him. But I doubt she wants him. He's rich, to be sure, but she's likely got a hundred wealthy suitors, maybe dooks and earls and such, like as not."

"Mr. Madison's a good catch, though. But what would Miss Cornelia say to such a mad marriage?"

"Well you know Miss Cornelia thinks everything and anything he brother does is perfect."

"Blest be-ee the ti-i-i that binds Our hear-arts in Chris-tian love!"

"But," she went on, "I know who would be mad and she'd raise the devil's own row, and that's Mrs. Boyce. She's always expected to have Harley Madison before she dies as much as she expects to have heaven after."

"If he marries her, he won't have much heaven before he dies, whatever he gets after. But our Mr. Madison isn't thinking about marryin' or givin' in marriage. He's all rolled up with his fancy town buildin' and improvin'."

He only looks at this stage like a picture, you know. Besides, she is Mr. Craig's girl, if she's anybody's. Mr. Harley ain't a snitcher."
